The Resignation of Commissioner Rollins—Opinion Delivered by Attorney General Evarts, in which he Declares that Resignation Had no Effect, and that no Vacancy Exists in the Office.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, August 12, 1868.

MR. ROLLINS' LETTER—ATTORNEY GENERAL EVART'S OPINION.

Following is the letter of Secretary McCulloch to United States Attorney General Evarts and opinion of the Attorney General in response thereto:

"AUGUST 7th, 1868. Dear Sir: Enclosed I hand you a copy of a letter addressed by Mr. E. A. Rollins, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, to the President of the United States on the 8th day of June, 1868, and also a copy of the President's endorsement thereon, dated August 5th, 1868. Under these circumstances, the following questions are presented for your consideration:

First—Is the office of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue vacant? Second—If the office is vacant when did the vacancy occur and can a successor to Mr. Rollins be appointed during the recess of the Senate? The office of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue being a very important and responsible one, it is desirable that there should be no doubt as to the legal status of the person in charge of it. I desire that you will favor me with your opinion upon the question thus presented to you at your earliest convenience.

Very respectfully,
your obedient servant,
H. MCCULLOCH,
Secretary of Treasury.

To Hon. Wm. M. Evarts, Attorney Gen.

THE OPINION OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE,
August 10, 1868.

Hon. Hugh McCulloch, Secretary of the Treasury: SIR: "I have given to the subject submitted to my consideration by your letter of the 7th inst., in relation to the present condition of the office of Commissioner of Internal Revenue, the most careful attention. The case presents itself as follows: Mr. E. A. Rollins holding the civil office of Commissioner of Internal Revenue, to which he had been appointed by the President of the United States, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, addressed to the President under date of June 8th, 1868, the following letter:

Office of Internal Revenue, Washington, D. C., June 8, 1868: SIR—In pursuance to a purpose known to my friends for several months, I hereby tender you the resignation of my office, to take effect upon the qualification of my successor nominated by yourself and confirmed by the Senate. I am, sir, very respectfully,

E. A. ROLLINS,
Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Upon the 6th of August the President placed upon this letter the following endorsement: "The resignation of E. A. Rollins as Commissioner of Internal Revenue, dated June 5th, 1868, is this day accepted." Upon these facts you desire an answer to two questions, viz: Is the office of Internal Revenue vacant? Second—If the office is vacant, when did the vacancy occur, and can a successor to Mr. Rollins be appointed during the recess of the Senate? The office of Commissioner of Internal Revenue is, as you suggest, a very important and responsible one. Its intelligent, efficient and faithful administration is a matter of the greatest interest to the public revenue and the public credit, and it is justly a subject of solicitude with the President that his full duty under the Constitution and the laws in respect to this office and its administration shall be fulfilled. The questions which you address to me come to be of practical and substantial interest in the Executive administration of the Government only by force of the recent legislation of Congress, known as the "Tenure of Civil Office Bill," that has impressed upon a class of officers, which includes that now under consideration, a tenure of office at the will of the office holder which cannot be terminated except by the concurrence of the President and the Senate in the appointment of a successor, and his actual induction into the office. So long as the President, by force of the Constitution and laws, had the power to terminate the officeholder's possession of his office by a removal at the President's discretion and against the will of the officer, the tenure of the latter's desired adherence or resignation of his office should have no especial significance, for they could impose no restraint upon the time or manner of the President's exertion of his proper authority, in the premises. The precise effect, therefore, of the legislation referred to is the first point for consideration. The purpose of the Tenure-of-Office bill was to change the doctrine and practice of the government by which removal from office at the mere discretion of the President had been established as a proper, and, as had been thought, a necessary attendant of the Executive duty and responsibility, under consideration, to maintain the efficiency and fidelity of the public service, in fulfilling the manifold and incessant obligations of administration and in the execution of the laws. This purpose, which might have been united to a requirement of the concurrence of the Senate with the Executive in effecting a removal from office and yet left the capacity of removal as a separate and independent act, open to the exigencies of the public service, has been carried by the law to the extent of precluding a termination of the officers hold upon his office by the united will of the Executive and the Senate, except by the sole and specific mode of the appointment, confirmation and qualification of a successor. This term holds open an office into which he shall have once been inducted is put distinctly by the act as a matter of the officer's right and title. The consequence of this is there is no other possible mode of vacating the office thus protracted against the will of the officer during the session of the Senate, however flagititous and imperious his personal or official conduct may be, except through the conditional process of impeachment. During the recess of the Senate the remedial proceeding of temporary suspension for cause by the execution, followed by accusation to the Senate and judgment thereon, is provided and may result in the removal of the officer without the necessity of the simultaneous appointment, confirmation and qualification of his successor. The language of the section securing the right and title to the office holder is too clear to admit of doubt—"that any person holding any civil office to which he has been appointed by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, and every person who shall hereafter be appointed to any such office and shall become duly qualified to act therein is and shall be entitled to hold such office until a successor shall have been, in like manner, appointed and duly qualified, except as herein otherwise provided." Mr. Rawlins then, at the date of his letter to the President, was entitled to hold the office of Commissioner of Internal Revenue until a successor should have been appointed by and with the consent of the Senate, and should have been qualified and the only interruption of this, his personal right, possible under the law, was the general process of impeachment and judgment thereon, or the special proceeding of suspension, accusation and judgment thereon provided by the act itself and which obviously partakes of the nature of impeachment. It rested then, under the operation of this law, solely with Mr. Rollins to determine whether he would voluntarily put an end to his hold upon the office by a relinquishment or resignation of it, and the question whether the office is now vacant must, in my opinion, turn entirely upon a just construction of the effect of the letter of Mr. Rollins in this regard. This letter is manifestly framed with the intent of carrying an impression that the writer does place himself, in respect to his official and public service and to the power and duty of the President in connection therewith, upon a different footing from that in which the law against, or without reference to his wishes, leaves him, but upon duly weighing all parts of this official communication to the President, which respect to the Commissioner would require me, if possible, to give some official efficacy to, I cannot hesitate to pronounce it entirely without any legal operation whatever upon Mr. Rollin's tenure-of-office. I am obliged to regard it as the present tender of a resignation, an actual relinquishment of the office only upon and after the event which is named and described by the writer as a condition precedent to its having that effect. This event, in the language of Mr. Rollins, addresssed to the President, is the "qualification of my successor nominated by yourself and confirmed by the Senate." It will be perceived that this event, which is to ripen this tender of a resignation into a relinquishment of the office, is precisely the action of the Executive and of the Senate and of the successor of Mr. Rollins, which, by the terms of the tenure of office act, deprives him of his office, and, consequently, of any power or will in regard to its relinquishment. I cannot, therefore, give to the letter any official or legal force whatever in placing at the discretion or disposition of the President any power over the office of Commissioner of Internal Revenue, which he did not possess without.

It remains only for me to consider whether the endorsement on the letter of Mr. Rollins made by the President on the 5th of August, operates upon the position of the office of Commissioner of Internal Revenue, as respects its vacancy or his present authority to fill it. Undoubtedly, if an officer of the Government places in the hands of the President a conditional resignation which takes effect as an official or legal relinquishment of his office, upon such condition it is competent for the President to assent to the condition or not, as may seem to him discreet, and in such a case an endorsement of this description would indicate his acquiescence in this disposition of the office which had been made by the conditional resignation. I have, however, in the nugatory character which I have assigned to the letter of Mr. Rollins, sufficiently shown that, in my opinion, it possessed no legal or official operation whatever upon the office or the President's authority over it to which the indorsement could attach itself, and I must consider that the office of Commissioner of Internal Revenue and Mr. Rollins' hold upon it remain the same as if his letter had not been written or the President's endorsement made thereon, and the office is not vacant.

This conclusion renders it unnecessary to consider or reply to your second question, which arises only in case I should have found a reason to pronounce the office in question vacant. I have disposed of the matter submitted to me wholly with the premises of the existing legislation governing the question, and without any discussion of the larger topics touching the conformity or repugnance of this legislation with the Constitution, for no such discussion would be appropriate to the enquiries to which you have called my attention.

With great respect, I have the honor to be, your obedient servant,

WM. M. EVARTS,
Attorney General.

THE TAILOR'S LEVEE.

The President to-day received the members of the International Tailor's Union Convention in the east room of the White House. About fifty delegates were present. The President was introduced to the members by Hon. Thos. B. Florence, and after shaking hands with them delivered an address, thanking them for their visit and referring at some length to the question of labor, and held that efforts should be made to elevate it. The President indulged in no remarks of a political character. The interview lasted about three-quarters of an hour.

STOREKEEPERS APPOINTED.

The names of the parties who have been appointed storekeepers under the new revenue law are, Wm. G. Marker, for the Sixth Indiana District, and Wm. McCutcheon, for the First Missouri District. The appointment of all subordinate officers under the act approved July 20, has been transferred from the Internal Revenue Office directly to the Secretary of the Treasury.

In pursuance of the above, the following notice has been issued:

The Federal Government proposes to appoint an agent, whose duty it shall be to watch over the embarkation of emigrants from the German ports and report all abuses.

POLITICAL.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, August 12.—The Democrats held their Convention to-day to nominate a candidate to represent the First and Second Ohio Districts in Congress. Gen. P. W. Strader was unanimously nominated on the first ballot to oppose Hon. Benjamin Eggleston, in the First District. No candidate was nominated for the Second District, but Gen. Carey, the workingmen's candidate and the present representative, was endorsed and the party pledged to his support. For county officers Thomas J. Stevens was nominated for Sheriff, and J. M. Noble for Auditor.

NASHVILLE, August 12.—The Republican State Convention met to-day. Hon. Horace Maynard was chosen President and the Vice Presidents and Secretary were appointed.

A letter from Governor Brownlow was received and a Committee was appointed to draft resolutions relative to the death of Thaddeus Stevens.

A very active contest has been in progress for some weeks in this Congressional district between S. C. Mercer and W. R. Prosser, candidates for the Republican nomination. The District Nominating Convention met in this city to-day, and only two delegates appearing from this county both were ruled out. The votes of the remaining counties were then taken, with the following result: Mercer, 14; Trimble, (no candidate,) 14; Prosser, 8; Harrison, 2. Without taking another ballot the Convention adjourned sine die. This unexpected action of the Convention leaves both the candidates in the field, without the prospect of an adjustment of the controversy except at the polls.

GETTYSBURG, Pa., August 10.—The Adams County Democratic Convention met here to-day, and made the following nominations: For Congress, William McClain; Senate, Joseph McDevitt, subject to the decision of the district conference. END OF THE GREAT COMMONER.

How He Passed Away—Religious Consolation—Preparations for the Funeral—The Body Embalmed and to Lie in State at the Capitol—He is to be Buried on Monday Next at Lancaster.

WASHINGTON, August 12.—The Pittsburgh Chronicle special says: The announcement that Thaddeus Stevens died last night at twelve o'clock excited some surprise, as it was not known his condition was so critical. To his immediate household, however, his death was not unlooked for, as he has been growing weaker for several days. Yesterday he remarked to those around him that he was rapidly sinking, and had no hope of ever resuming his accustomed seat in the Capitol. During the day, however, he conversed with cheerfulness and animation on various subjects. He referred to Attorney General Evarts in terms of marked kindness. He grew feebler towards night, and about four o'clock became speechless. His physician called at about nine o'clock, and discovered that the veteran's end was drawing near. His last hours were calm and painless. Only a few members of his immediate family were present, with two Sisters of Charity from Providence Hospital, for whom Mr. Stevens has always manifested great regard, and whom he has materially aided in securing an appropriation for the erection of the Hospital buildings in their charge. About ten minutes before his death, having obtained permission of his friends, Sister Loretta performed the baptismal rite.

Up to the very last Mr. Stevens continued to take a profound interest in public affairs. On Monday he expressed considerable anxiety in regard to the state of the country, and frequently referred to the condition of affairs in Louisiana. He expressed the hope that Mr. Johnson might abstain from anything likely to create trouble, and hoped that no necessity would arise for the re-assembling of Congress in September. He was much better yesterday morning than he had been for months apparently, but in the afternoon he became ill and sank rapidly up to midnight, when he breathed his last. His physicians succeeded in alleviating bodily pain, but could not prolong his life. Before death the old Commoner directed that his remains should be laid out by his housekeeper, and were to be seen by no one else until enshrouded. The funeral will take place at Lancaster next Sunday.

The arrangements for Mr. Stevens' funeral have not yet been fully completed. His remains have been embalmed and present a wonderfully life-like appearance. They now lie in the parlor of his residence on Capitol Hill, where visitors are constantly coming and going. He will be buried at Lancaster, Pennsylvania, and his remains will probably be removed to his residence at that place, on Friday, although the time has not yet been definitely settled. The funeral ceremonies at Lancaster will not take place until Sunday or Monday next.

By our own dispatches we learn that the arrangements made for the funeral of Hon. Thaddeus Stevens have not yet been fully completed and will not be until the arrival there of Mr. McPherson, Clerk of the House of Representatives, who is expected there early to-morrow morning. The process of embalming the body was performed under the direction of the Surgeon General. The body lies embalmed in a full suit of black with a black scarf around the neck. A few days after the adjournment of Congress Mr. Stevens was attacked with diarrhea, which, though occasionally checked, leaving him at times quite well and cheerful, was at last the cause of his death. About ten days ago he became unable to leave his apartment, but sat up at short intervals. During the past week, and until Saturday morning, when there were evident signs of a change for the worse, as he then became exceedingly feeble and showed a marked indisposition to engage in any conversation, as he had done previously. From that time all visits of strangers were prohibited. Yesterday and Monday he scarcely spoke to any one and lay most of the time with his hands crossed and his eyes closed as if asleep. The only signs he gave of consciousness being feeble mutterings and slight motions of hands. In the afternoon yesterday, however, he revived for a time and conversed with considerable cheerfulness and even with animation on a variety of ordinary topics and though he continued to grow feebler during the rest of the day, yet he retained his consciousness and the power of speech up to within a few moments of his death. His last words were to ask for a piece of ice. Many persons called to see him during the evening, but none were admitted until after about six o'clock, when two colored clergymen named Reed and Hall, who had some months before expressed a desire to pray with him, were sent for at his request and coming to his bedside invoked divine blessing on him. One of these men was at the death-bed of Jno. Q. Adams. Mr. Stevens seemed somewhat affected by the prayers and at the close thanked them with a feeble voice and a pressure of the hand. About ten minutes before his death, Sister Loretta asked and obtained consent to baptize him, and the solemn rite was administered in silence, which was rendered more impressive by the stillness of the late hour of night. At this time his breathing was very much obstructed and he appeared to suffer from violent palpitation of the heart, but this passed off, and during the five minutes before he breathed his last he lay motionless and quiet, as if in a gentle sleep. Among many others who have called this evening to view the remains were Secretary Schofield, Attorney General Evarts, Senator Sumner, General Eakin and Surgeon General Barnes.

The body of Mr. Stevens will lie in state in the rotunda of the Capitol to-morrow from noon until its departure on Friday for Lancaster, whither it will be escorted by a special train. The remains will be guarded by a company of colored Zouaves of this city, who have requested that honor. The arrangements for the funeral in this city have not been completed. The religious ceremonies will probably be conducted by the Chaplain of the Senate, Rev. Dr. Gray, assisted by Rev. B. B. Emery, of Pennsylvania.

The Rev. Dr. Boynton is absent from Washington and cannot possibly be here in time to attend the principal funeral, which will take place at Lancaster at precisely two o'clock on Monday afternoon.

The Canada Fire Ended—The Nova Scotia Question.

TORONTO, August 12.—The fire at Aymar and vicinity has exhausted itself. The crops in the section through which the fire passed were destroyed. A dispatch from Halifax says that Attorney General Wilkins' resolution protesting against the confederation passed the House of Assembly. It is understood the local Government is canvassing the propriety of an appeal to the people to show that Nova Scotia desires it.

The Board of Health, with the consent of the New Jersey authorities, have selected a new quarantine ground for sickly and infected cattle, and all such have been removed to the new yard. Dr. Harris states that no diseased beef has been on sale in this city for two or three days. As Governor Fenton has ordered inspections at Salamanca, Elmira, Buffalo and Albany, no fears are felt that any diseased cattle will reach this city. The cattle trade was dull to-day and prices lower, ranging from 12 to 16c. Hogs dull at 10½@11c. Receipts —1,880 cattle, 4,662 hogs.

At a meeting of Master Masons to-day, the subject of appointing a committee to confer with that of the journeymen, was referred to the Executive Committee with power to act.

The Ship Owners' Association to-day appointed a committee to frame a memorial to the Secretary of the Treasury asking for the removal of the system giving power of employing their own lightermen and cartmen to ship owners themselves. It is now exercised by the Collector. A convention of ship owners of New England and New York is to meet in Boston in December.

The Democratic State Central Committee will meet at Utica to-morrow, to decide on a day for the State Convention.

The Minerals of West Virginia.

[Correspondence Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BALTIMORE, MD., August 11th, 1868.

The editor of the Clarksburgh's National Telegraph, of August 7th, "never heard of any iron ore in Upsher, nor of any veins of bituminous coal more than two feet thick." I send you a copy of a letter from W. T. Higginbotham, of Buckhannon, Upsher county, West Virginia.

BUCKHANNON, W. VA., 22d Feb., 1868.

MR. J. L. N., Dear Sir: Yours of the 16th inst. is just received. The distance from this place to the Bond Land is some twelve (12) miles, and my knowledge of it is accurate as to a considerable part of it, from frequent surveying done by me; as a whole it embraces a larger amount of good land, than any survey of similar size that I have ever surveyed; the soil is very productive in all the crops that are known to our farmers; for grazing I regard it as equal to any part of the State; and as regards fruit, say apples and peaches, you know from what you saw last fall, that it will compare with any place. The survey is abundantly supplied with water by the Buckhannon and Kanawha rivers and their tributaries, the streams offering any amount of water power for mills, &c., and in the way of timber, I do not hesitate to say that in the way of oak, poplar, hickory, sugar, walnut, maple, cherry, beech and chestnut, that it is not surpassed by any other survey large or small. Bituminous coal is abundant and cannel coal is found in large quantities and of superior quality. I find iron ore that seems to me to be nearly pure. The beds of rock are what we call sand stone and valuable for building, as it can be split in any length with as much percision as tember, it dresses to a smooth face, and fire does not make an impression for a long time. The general description of this land I think may properly be put under the head of rolling, better than hilly. Lead ore has been found, and I think that one versed in mineralogy would be apt to make discoveries. But one thing I do know in regard to this land, and it is this, that if money and muscle would take hold that these bond lands would soon be the garden spot of Upshur.

You may think that my conclusions are hasty, but they are the sincere and sober convictions of my mind after twenty odd years of active surveying.

I remain, my dear sir, with much respect, yours.

[Signed] W. T. HIGGINBOTHAM.

I have a desire that you will publish the above letter in confirmation of Hon. D. L. T. Farnesworth's statement. If you print it please send a copy of your paper to my address, No. 52 Courtland street, Baltimore, Md.

Very respectfully,
W. W. BASSETT.

Loving Pittsburgh for Pittsburgh's Self.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

AUGUST 6, 1868.

I left Pittsburgh yesterday, (5th,) slept at Crestline, Ohio, where we were comfortably lodged at the "Continental." I have not yet recovered my regret at leaving Pittsburgh, though as a residence I could scarce endure it, the smoky atmosphere, where a brilliant sun is seldom seen, the absence of all verdure, all variety—not a shade tree, no flower gardens or beautiful parks, destitute of all nature—in short, and worse than all, the deplorable crossways, the horrible shrieks of the railroad engines as they cross the different bridges, also steamboat whistles which remind one of an Indian war-whoop, from early morn till evening at midnight ever the same, (the English tourist may well remark, "the Americans are fond of a noise," for I certainly never witnessed it so strongly verified as during my short stay in Pittsburgh,) would give me the horrors. But as a visitor my curiosity was not half gratified. The magnificent manufactories of glass, iron, brass, steel, and the rolling mills, &c., the incessant clang of the beautiful machinery, which inventions come nearer to God's works of nature than anything we have ever beheld in the art and skill of man before. I should have liked to have stayed a few days longer—perhaps, after all, I have reason to rejoice that instead of bringing away from Pittsburgh a disagreeable impression of satiety, disgust and melancholy, I have quitted it with feelings of admiration, of deep regret, and undiminished interest. Farewell then, Pittsburgh! I could not have believed it possible that it would have brought tears to my eyes to leave a place merely for its own sake, and unendeared by the presence of any one I loved.

—Nelson Cummings, conductor on a freight train on the Worcester Railroad, was killed at noon yesterday as the train was about starting. He slipped as he was getting up between two cars. Fell with his neck across the rail and his head was entirely cut off.

—General Harney will leave St. Louis next week for the Upper Missouri to perfect arrangements for the removal of Indians into the Northern reservations. He will make his headquarters at Fort Randall. BURIAL OF SIR JOHN (SEY) MOUR.

SOME PARODY BY LONG FELLOW, JR.

Not a sigh was heard nor a funeral note
As up the Salt River we hurried,
But we longed to leave the cold corpus alone
For we heartily wished he was buried.

We buried him deeply on election day
(All our votes for Ulysses casting)
And smiled when we thought how his New York "friends"
Would pray for his rest everlasting.

No star spangled banner enclosed his breast
But in a wet blanket we found him,
And he lay like a grayback taking his rest
With a secesh flag around him.

Just as our jolly job was done
Salt River the moon beams reflected,
And we knew by the booming of Union guns
That Grant and "old Ski" were elected.

Bemba was arrested, but his employer bailed him out, and the result of his blow is awaited.

—Some misguided friend of one of the Republican candidates for Controller, unwisely said, in a communication to the Dispatch on Tuesday, that if his candidate could have his way, no lager beer saloon could exist in the city, or words to that effect. This has aroused the ire of our German cotemporary, the Freiheits Freund, who objects to this Son of Temperance and says "This recommendation needs no commentary. One finds it only difficult to determine whether to be more astounded at the stupidity or at the shamelessness of this water simpleton."

—Samuel Kent Stone, grandson of Chancellor Kent, and newly elected President of Hobart College, at Geneva, New York, is a marvellous man. He is only twenty-eight years old and yet has graduated at Harvard, studied two years and taken a degree at Gœttingen, entered a Massachusetts regiment during the war as a private, but was promoted to a commission, was afterwards elected Professor of Greek at Kenyon College, and one year ago he was chosen President of that institution. The trustees of Hobart College have given him authority to nominate his own professors, and to control the fund for the increase of professors' salaries. If there be another young man, not thirty years of age, with such a record as this, we have yet to hear of him.

Climatic Curiosities.

The changes in a country's climate by settlement and cultivation of the soil often seem strange and inconsistent. A letter from a late traveler in Nebraska notes some curious contrasts: "It is a frequent subject of remark in the Ohio Valley, that settling the country, clearing and ditching the land constantly makes it dryer; that old wells and springs are drying up, and each succeeding summer, branches run dry which never did before. The French Agricultural Report makes the same complaint, and calls upon the Government to stop the destruction of the forests, as the means of preserving the rivers. But here, with settlement, exactly the reverse phenomena are presented, and the quantity of rain in Western Nebraska and Kansas has doubled within the memory of man. Perhaps this is due somewhat to the trees planted on new farms, but I think, also, that breaking up the sod allows it to absorb more moisture than it could in the prarie state, and in many instances turning a hundred acres of sod will renew an old spring. Fresh branches are starting in gullies which have been dry for hundreds perhaps thousands of years. Thus, spings break out in the thirsty wilderness, and streams of water in the dry ground! Here is an important principle at work, which will enable agriculture to make great advances on what is now the American desert." Akin to these are the facts of heavy rains this summer in Colorado and California, States where the rule of dry summers seem to have been invariable heretofore. Who shall divine the law of such revolutions?

George Peabody, Esq.

The testimonial ordered by the United States Government to be presented to Mr. Peabody in acknowledgment of his munificent gifts to the cause of education, both in the North and the South, has been finished. The testimonial is in the form of a symbolical monument. It consists of a pedestal of ebony, three inches wide, eight inches long, and an inch and a half in height, on which rises a purple velvet block, six and a half inches long and two and a half high. On this rises a massive gold plinth, resting on the centre of which is an upright medal, the front disk of which presents an excellent medallion profile of Mr. Peabody. On the obverse disk of the medal the following inscription is cut: "The people of the United States to George Peabody, in acknowledgment of his beneficent promotion of univeral education." On the right hand of the medallion likewise rises a female statue, representing "Benevolence," holding a laurel bough. On the left of the medal there are two nude figures of children, white and black. The white child points proudly to the medallion face, while the black, pointing to himself, according to the idea of the artist, appears to ask if he, too, is to be benefitted. Behind this group rises a three-trunked palmetto tree. Beneath the obverse disk is a collection of the symbols of education. In the centre is a mounted geographical globe, which revolves at the touch. Below this, an unrolled map of the United States, with the Bible and school books at the right and left.

A LONDON correspondent of the Boston Advertiser speaking of the Cambridge degree conferred upon Longfellow and his popularity in England, says: "It is literally true that a volume of his poems is found in nearly every English home. If you go into the drawing room of one of the middle classes in any of the towns, a volume of Longfellow's poems is on the centre table. When I was at a public school, thirty boys had each a copy of Longfellow. Passionate lovers search his poems for tender lines wherewith to touch the heart. No young lady's collection of pianoforte music is complete without 'Excelsior.' An excellent bass singer (Mr. Weiss) died the other day, whose reputation was chiefly made by his mode of singing 'The Village Blacksmith,' which he had himself set to music. There is no living English poet who has half the circle of readers in England that Mr. Longfellow possesses. As I write I can call to mind editions of his works in all shapes and forms of which English publishing admits. I have seen him heavy in gold, and beautiful in the best of engravings. I know him in green, in blue, in Russia, in cloth, in paper covers. He is gilt edged, marble edged, and plain. I have read him in types so large that Methusaleh would not have wanted spectacles in deciphering him, and I have looked with curiosity at pages where anything less than a microscope would have been of little service. Every farmer's wife has a Longfellow, if she has only a dozen books in her case."

THE Massachusetts Agricultural College, at Amherst, has completed the first year of its existence. The first class of the institution, numbering forty-eight students, at the recent close of the annual term, were examined in the studies of the past year, which included mathematics, chemistry, botany and the French language. The labor of the students on the farm has been found very useful and even necessary during the past term. All are required to work two hours in the afternoon of every alternate day, and in addition, others work for wages at such times as they choose. The pay is according to the amount and quality of the work, ranging from 16, 15 and 12 cents per hour, and one student, since May, has earned $58 in cash, and yet thoroughly and faithfully attended to all his studies. The Superintendent directs and distributes the work, and all the class labor is performed under his direct supervision. The students, it is stated, manifest a uniform willingness at their farm labor, and make rapid improvement in the practical part of agriculture. Of the forty-eight students of the present class, all but one will return, and over sixty applications have been received for admission.

RIVER NEWS.

The river has undergone no change since the date of our last report, the metal mark indicating two feet one inch. It is claimed, however, that there are several inches more water in the channel than the mark shows, and we are inclined to believe it, as the Camelia went out drawing thirty inches. We feel satisfied that Captain Dean would not have loaded her down to that if he had not felt pretty certain of getting through. Now, if this mark is not correct, it is somebody's business to have it corrected, as there is no other mark to go by when the river gets down to a low water stage.

—The Kate Robinson has been laid up at Cincinnati for the present.

—It was the Mattie not the Mollie Burns that snagged and sunk near Cairo the other day.

—The Maggie Hays will load for New Orleans at Cincinnati, after the Emma No. 3.

—The towboat Samson passed by Cincinnati on Monday evening, with eight barges loaded with empty oil barrels from Aurora.

—The steamer Veteran was sold on the 1st inst., at Gallipolis, by Deputy U. S. Marshal J. E. Richardson, for the sum of $1,251. Messrs. Clarence Ward, Lewis Billings, sen., and Wm. Billings were the purchasers.

The Cincinnati Enquirer of Tuesday says: Captain George Neeld, agent of the Pittsburgh Underwriters, is in the city, on business relative to the insurance on the steamers Ezra Porter and Delaware, burned here a few days since. Capt. Reinhart, of Pittsburgh, principal owner of the Deleware, and Captain Richard Calhoun are also in the city.

—The St. Louis Republican of Sunday says: The statement which appeared in the Democrat yesterday morning, in regard to Capt. W. J. Kountz, going on the Great Republic, was entirely premature; as was also that to the effect that Capt. Pat. Yore would command her. The owners of the boat have not determined who they will place in charge.

—Capt. W. Holliday, an old Upper Mississippi Pilot, died at his residence in Keokuk on Saturday last. Capt. Holliday was about 51 or 52 years of age, and had been on the river as Captain and pilot for 31 years. He commenced his career as a keelboatman, when very young, and during an active life was universally respected. His death will be regretted among a wide circle of associates and friends.

—The Dubuque Herald of the 7th contains the following account of the sinking of the War Eagle: The White Collar Line has met with another misfortnne. The War Eagle struck a snag five miles below Sabula yesterday morning and sunk, as will be seen by a notice elsewhere. The company has plenty of spare boats to keep the line full, and will start out the Damsel this morning for up river, with the crew of the War Eagle. A pump has been shipped from Lacresse to raise the sunken vessel which feat will be accomplished in a few days.

—The Nashville Union and Dispatch, of Saturday, says: A gentleman who arrived from Wilson county, yesterday, tells us of the sudden death by suffocation, on Sunday night last, of Captain Wood, an old Cumberland river steamboatman, who ran the Western waters years ago. He was living upon his farm near Commerce, a little post village some twelve miles northeast of Lebanon, and on the night of his death had retired to his bed, about the hour of ten, in apparent good health. About midnight, his wife was awakened by some unnatural noise, and upon inquiring of her husband what was the matter, received an answer that he was "suffocating." He arose and went to the door for fresh air, and as he opened it, fell a lifeless corpse across the step.

—A Louisville telegram under date of Monday to the Cincinnati Commercial says: River receding six feet two inches water in canal, 50 in pass down falls and 40 inches over the rocks. The huge Thompson Dean, in chargo of Pilot Pink Varble, decended the falls at 1 P. M. all right, and was safely landed at Portland; her bottom was too wide for the chute and she was listed so that one knuckle was in the pass and the other rubbed over along the edge, as she was actually drawing more water than was on the falls over the rocks. The feat was extremely difficult, but was successfully accomplished. The tow-boats, Simpson Horner and Alps were brought up the falls in the evening. J. P. Webb and Charmer passed up. Legal Tender arrived from N. O. Hercules, with tow of 9 barges, from Pittsburgh.

A COMPANY OF "Grant Rangers," numbering some sixty members, was organized at Honesdale, Pa., last week. Their officers are all old soldiers, and the Rangers are to be equipped in a style similar to that of the famous Wide Awakes of '64. Pretty well for that spirited little community.

SECRETARY SEWARD returns to Washington without making the expected speech for GRANT and COLFAX, which was to mark his visit at Auburn. The venerable Secretary is understood to be decided in his preferenee, but has come, of late, to be indifferent to any active part in politics.

THE Republican Committee of Crawford county have condemned the nomination of Mr. JOHNSON for Congress, by the stout vote of 32 to 13, and authorized their Chairman to appoint new Conferees. This would seem to indicate that he must either withdraw or the Republicans will lose the district.

THE "CATTLE DISEASE," otherwise known as the "Spanish fever," is reported to be on the increase in New Jersey, exhibiting in that locality, as in Illinois, the peculiar liability of cows to receive the contagion. Upon this point, we may remark that the Western reports dwell with especial minuteness upon the prevalence of the disease as an epidemic among this description of stock. In some of the afflicted districts of Southern Illinois, it is stated that every cow has died. The outbreak of the disease near New York has been followed by the authorities in the adoption of the most stringent measures to prevent its spread.

ATTORNEY GENERAL EVARTS renders an official opinion that Commissioner ROLLINS had the clear legal right to attach conditions to his resignation, and that the act of resignation can be perfected only by the completion of those conditions. He holds, therefore, that the office is not yet vacated, and that the President is not entitled to nominate a successor. This opinion will no doubt be accepted as conclusive by Mr. JOHNSON, and the control of the Revenue Bureau will be retained for the present in competent and trustworthy hands.

The Attorney General also holds that the present Congressional vacation is a recess and not an adjournment, and that the Executive action in relation to pending and unconfirmed appointments must be regulated accordingly. These opinions are invested by present circumstances with a peculiar importance, and their tenor is such as not only to satisfy the supporters of the Republican policy, but to contribute in a marked degree to the preservation of "practical relations" between Congress and the Executive.

SHALL THE WORK BE UNDONE?

When the Democratic party inflicted the curse of a Rebellion upon the country, the people very naturally and properly entrusted to the Republican party the duty of repressing it, and of restoring the rebellious populations to their proper constitutional relations to the Republic. The business was properly placed in Republican hands because this party, originally organized on the basis of the Freedom and Equality of Man, received large accessions, simultaneously with the outbreak of the Democratic revolt, from the large numbers of patriotic citizens who then, and forever, abjured a party which, in its frantic ambition, had brought such a crisis upon the Union. The Republican party thus became the embodiment of the idea of Federal Supremacy, while the Democracy degenerated into a mere faction, supporting, by the votes of its remaining mass as well as by the influence more or less openly exerted, of its conspicuous leaders, the rightfulness of the action of the armed enemies of the Union. The Republican party were for a continued Union, while the Democracy were against it. The Republicans demanded the perpetuity of the nation as a nation, one and indivisible, and that, whatever obstacles should resist the complete and permanent re-establishment of the National authority, these should be relentlessly swept away. The Democracy, on the other hand, have consistently and steadily preferred that certain features of our pre-existing political status should be preserved, no matter to what extent the miseries, the perils or the crime of the rebellion itself might be justly chargeable upon them, or with what certainty the renewal of fresh revolts would follow their preservation.

To the Republican party, which subdued the Rebellion, the loyal American people committed the duty of re-organizing the local institutions which rebel hands had shattered in their respective States, the popular instruction comprehending but one single, leading idea,—that of so conducting this reconstruction as to preclude most effectually for the future the possibility of another revolt against the Union, in the interest of isolated classes, special institutions, or sectional ambition.

Who can doubt that this duty has been faithfully discharged? The work is not wholly completed, but it approaches its fulfillment, and its present success already attests its final perfection. The last trace of the dangerous element of Aristocracy has been obliterated from a now purely Democratic-Republican form of government. The last barriers, which hedged in a privileged class as the hereditary masters of an unpaid and hopeless servitude, have been levelled to the common earth. The last stronghold of philosophical treason, which fortified the right of secession, and therefore of rebellion, within the doctrine of State rights, has been blown into fragments by the logic of the war, and the last, as well as the most dangerous paradox which the old Constitution enshrined, that which denied the equality of citizenship among all the citizens of the model Republic, has been reconciled into consonance with the dictates of civilization and the true material interests of a Christian people.

More than this; the Republican party, accepting, as one result of the conflict, the conversion of eight millions of persons into citizens, have conferred upon the enfranchised and elevated race the right of an equal participation in the simply Republican privilege of protecting themselves in their new citizenship, by giving them a voice in their own public affairs. Made free, and given the right of American freemen, we may expect that they will hereafter maintain their own liberties and loyally uphold the authority of the Union, upon which their freedom, like our own, depends.

All this has been and still is most distasteful to the Democratic party. They would preserve the old Aristocracy; they would protect and perpetuate the old class-privilege; they would re-establish and defend Slavery itself; admitting the theory of secession to be dead, they proclaim a policy built upon that right of secession as its corner-stone; they appeal to the prejudices of race for the irrevocable degradation of eight millions of citizens, either to their old state of compulsory servitude, or to a condition in some respects still more hopelessly unfortunate,—that of outcasts, without the pale of civil rights and protected neither by the cupidity of masters nor by their own participation in political privileges: they propose, in brief, to disfranchise and disarm these new citizens, and to exclude them entirely from any part in public affairs in their own States. These States were all in rebellion; their white populations are rebel still, though once conquered and disarmed. Give to them their old control of affairs, unembarrassed by the loyal freedmen, and their power, as States, would be again wielded, as in 1861, for the destruction of the Union. The new element of loyalty overbears them now, and therefore it is hateful to the rebel-Democratic spirit.

The thoughtful patriot who can convince himself that the white populations of those States are loyal at heart, and that they will loyally uphold the Union which they so recently attempted to destroy; the citizen who can persuade himself that colored suffrage is not an absolute necessity, or who can, by reason or by the force of natural equity or political expediency, satisfy himself that this fragment of citizenship, ever to be most slenderly influential in proportion to its numbers, ought not of right, and should not from policy, be admitted to equal civil privileges; the citizen who, holding these objections, regards them of more weight than the revolutionary programme which menaces the freedom of the white ballot by denying the rule of the majority; the American who is ready to receive a treasonable threat as an irresistible argument; the loyal Republican who can forget the immeasurable sacrifices which this land has already made to preserve the National existence from the same spirit of violence heretofore—let all such citizens accept the Democratic proposition, surrender the government to their disloyal hands, undo the great results which Loyalty and Liberty have recently consecrated, and abandon the only Republic which has ever ordained the perfect freedom of man to the propagandists of Aristocracy and Slavery. Thand God!—no such shameful recreants can be found among all those millions who have been and ever will be faithful to the principles of Republican Liberty! The new rebellion will be strangled in its birth, and the Republic will march on in its Heaven-appointed course toward the elevation and perfection of all the human race.

THE POST'S TAUNT.

Mr. CHARLES JEREMY is one of the contestants for the Republican nomination for Mayor of this city. The Post snarls at him as "the WELSH BUTCHER." These are all the objections it urges against his being made the candidate and elected: 1st, that he is a foreigner by birth; 2d, that he is a laboring man; and these pleas are made against him by the organ of the Democracy of this city and county!

Now, we are well aware that the so-called Democratic leaders in Pennsylvania, as in all the other States of the Union, are unadulterated aristocrats in social life. Take WOODWARD, CLYMER, BLACK and REED as specimens of a long list that might be drawn up! We knew that the Post fully sympathized with this aristocratic set; but we did not think it would be so indiscreet as to say so, even by implication.

Mr. JEREMY is a Welshman. He is not ashamed of his nationality, and has no need to be. Wales has given to the United States a large number of the best men in it. Of all the stocks of which this nation is composed, there is not one which possesses better qualities than the Welsh.

But, pray; where were the conductors of the Post born, and of what blood, that they make it a matter of disparagement to a man that he did not happen to be born in this country?

Mr. JEREMY is a butcher. He has pursued that useful and respectable calling for many years, and with industry, tact and success. He is not ashamed of his business career.

A genius akin to the Post once sneered at Pittsburgh as "a community made up mainly of THRIFTY MECHANICS." He thought he was smart, and displayed his superior quality. He only exhibited his vulgarity and want of sense. Pittsburgh is made up largely, if not mainly, of "thrifty mechanics." It is pre-eminently a hive of industry. Therein is its true glory. No nobler population exists on the earth, than the men who are skilled in the leading industries of civilization. A score of them have more genuine knowledge, and are of greater account to the age in which they live, than all the fops and dandies on the continent.

We do not submit these remarks with a view to having it understood that we espouse Mr. JEREMY'S side in his contest for the pending nomination. We have taken no part in that matter, and intend to take none. But we are filled with a larger measure of disgust than we can well express, when we find any body spitting upon men because their occupations, though honorable, are not reputed as genteel as some others, or because, irrespective of their characters and conduct, they chanced to be born outside of the boundaries of this country.

THE WORK GOES ON.

Allegheny county is preparing itself to make a good report in the autumn. Our Republicans are wide awake, and hurrying to the front. The organization has never been more compact, well-devised or efficient. We have reposed our Executive duties in the hands of competent men, who mean business all the time, and who attend to it with vigilant fidelity. The rank and file, of the friends of GRANT and COLFAX, intelligently comprehend all the duties of good citizens in this canvass, of unspeakable importance as it is, and in every district and precinct they spring with alacrity to second the efforts of the Committees. Not less than thirty-two GRANT and COLFAX Clubs are fully organized and meeting regularly, while a large additional number will soon take the field. Before another month expires, our banners will wave and the voices of our advocates will be heard throughout country and town, from one side of the county to the other. The young men are foremost in this campaign, and they mean to fight it out until November. When they take the affair in hand, as they are doing it this year, old Allegheny will give an account of herself better than ever before. So, steady, boys; stand by the old flag and forward to the music of the Union!

THE CONNELLSVILLE RAILROAD.

The appearance of an advertisement "to contractors," in our columns affords a decisive proof that the public desire for the completion of the direct connection with Baltimore, is to be gratified without necessary loss of time. All the needful preparations have been made by the Engineers, and the work of construction is offered to bidders. This means that the very important project is "out of the woods," and that it is to be realized as soon as the natural impediments are overcome. We understand that the work now offered is in all respects deserving of the attention of contractors and presume that there will be a healthy completion in the bids.

THIS IS A YEAR OF WELCOME SURPRISES! The Democracy are rendering valuable aid to the friends of the Union, by disgusting their own friends, and impelling them to come out for GRANT and COLFAX. They laid us under especial obligations in this way at East Liberty, on Tuesday night, where a "Democratic meeting" of about a hundred people, half of whom were Republicans, managed to nauseate so many of that party, that one honest old German who never yet voted aught but the Democratic ticket, "spoke out in meeting," declaring that the Germans were not to be fooled in that way, and that he, for one, at least, was a Grant man hereafter. Won't the Democracy hold another meeting in the same place?

PROFESSION AND PRACTICE.

HORATIO SEYMOUR takes pains to declare that, during his term of office as Governor of New York, he commissioned 16,000 officers for the service of the Union. The puerility of this appeal for Union votes may be understood, when we remember that the issue of these commissions was purely a matter of course, in the line of Executive duty, as much so as that of signing appointments for notaries or justices of the peace. The Governor deserves no credit for it, one way or the other. Probably his own hand was not placed to ten per cent. of these commissions, the Executive signature being made in regular course by his Secretary. Had the signatures been refused, he would have been removed speedily from his office. So much for his empty profession of zeal for the Union.

Let us look at his practice! In April, 1863, the New York Legislature passed a "proxy-vote" bill, enabling the citizens of the State, absent in the Union armies, to participate in the elections by voting in the camp or in the field. This bill, obnoxious in its essential idea, as it was to Copperhead sympathies everywhere, Governor SEYMOUR found time, even in the pressure of his occupation in "commissioning 16,000 Union officers," to veto, and did veto it, on the 24th of April, '63, on the ground of its unconstitutionality! The State Senate, receiving the veto message, the same day adopted a resolution characterizing the document "as extra-official and unauthorized." It appears, therefore, that Governor SEYMOUR could cheerfully commission and send off 16,000 Union officers to distant service, provided that their votes should not count during their absence, against him and his Copperhead "friends," the New York rioters, draft-sneaks and asylum-burners.

All which affords a faithful illustration of Democratic professions and Copperhead practice. Let the Boys in Blue think about it!

THE DEBT OF PENNSYLVANIA.

The Republican government of the Commonwealth have made a reduction of four and one-third millions of dollars in the public debt since the close of the year 1860. The annual taxation has been reduced during the same period to the amount of one and one-third millions of dollars. The Democracy made the debt and the Republicans are paying it. The Republican policy which accomplished this was inaugurated in the midst of the rebellion, and has been faithfully pursued. No Democratic State Government in the Union can furnish a parallel to this crowning proof of Republican ability and success in the financial administration of public affairs. Let every Republican voter of the State invite his Democratic neighbor's attention to these facts, as they are officially stated in the annexed correspondence:

UNION REPUBLICAN STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE ROOMS, No. 105 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, August 4, 1868:

General John F. Hartranft, Auditor General:

DEAR SIR—Please furnish me at your earliest convenience with such official information as may be in your possession relative to the following questions:

First. How much was the total debt of the State January 1, 1860?

Second. How much was the total debt January 1, 1868?

Third. To what extent during this period has taxation been abated or repealed?

Fourth. What amount of extraordinary expenses have been paid by the State during the period?

Very respectfully, yours, GALUSHA A. GROW.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE.
HARRISBURG, August 6, 1868.

Hon. G. A. Grow, Chairman, &c.:

DEAR SIR—In answer to yours of the 4th instant, I annex statement of public debt at the close of the fiscal year 1860, and at this date.

Total State debt Nov. 30, 1860	$37,969,847.50
Total State debt August 5, 1868	33,651,637,47
Of this latter amount the interest is stopped on $851,641.13, and the amount redeemable on presentation, the funds being on hand for its payment.
The tax on real and personal estate has been reduced as follows:
The net amount charged to the counties annually from 1862 to 1865, was	$1,657,314,33
The net amount chargable to the counties annually for 1866, '1867, and 1868	313,222,19
Annual reduction	$1,344,092.19

Extraordinary expenses to a large amount have been paid during these years for military services, &c., the items of which you will find in the annual reports from this office from July 1861 to 1867 inclusive. Respectfully yours, J. F. HARTRANFT, Auditor General.

THE UNION REPUBLICANS of Kentucky are deserving of high honor. In the face of overwhelming majorities against them, in every political canvass since the breaking out of the rebellion, they have kept a steady front, maintained their ranks unbroken and, never losing, have slowly but constantly gained in numbers, so that their organization is larger and more powerful now than at any former period. They gave to LINCOLN 27,786 votes in '64, to BARNES 33,939 votes in '67, and to BAKER, at the election last week, a vote which will equal and probably exceed that of last year. The reported "Democratic gain" this year comes entirely from last year's "third party," made up of Democratic and Conservative malcontents, who gave then 13,168 votes. This number, added to the 90,225 votes for the regular Democratic ticket (HELM) in '67, will explain why their journals claim this year a total vote of 114,000. The result, therefore is more encouraging than otherwise to the Kentucky Republicans, since it shows their real strength to be unimpaired by all the adverse circumstances which, in that State, make it a work requiring nerve and high principle, to uphold the cause of the Union. And they should be honored accordingly.

"We understand the Republican County Committee have ordered ten thousand extra GAZETTES for consumption in this county, which accounts for a whole page devoted to extracts from supposed speeches of Southern men before or during the rebellion. These are held out in proof that the southern people deserve the halter, and should be treated to a little more grape. Let us have peace."—Post.

Our contemporary does not tell the truth. We have said neither directly nor by inference that the "Southern people deserve the halter," or that they "should be treated to a little more grape." All we have done is to let Southern Democrats and Northern ones speak for themselves in our columns. What they threaten in way of "halters" and "a little more grape" for citizens who do not fall in with their ideas and purposes our readers are now able to judge for themselves. We are "for peace;" but finding a large class of influential Democrats resolved on renewing the war in case their party shall be beaten in the approaching Presidential election, we thought it well to spread the evidence before the people. "That's what's the matter."

THE Richmond Enquirer says:

"Abolition having become an accomplished fact, the Radical party proposes to make the negroes, both those who were slaves and those who were known as free negroes before the late war, equal with the whites all over the country, North as well as South, and especially in the South. Then, it is a negro equality party. And if the negro is the equal of the white man, the two have a legal right to intermarry. Hence the Radical Grant party is a Miscegenation Party. Miscegenation will reduce the whites inevitably to the level of the negroes, whose native worship is the adoration of reptiles and the practice of obscene rites and cannibalism in all its horrible details. To this complexion must we come at last—we, the once proud Saxon race—if General Grant and his party are to prevail."

In 1860—the year before the rebellion broke out—according to official reports, the number of Democratic voters in the Southern States bore an almost exact proportion to the number of mulattoes. We neither affirm nor insinuate that these two facts bore to each other the relation of cause and effect. All we aver is that "miscegenation" existed on a broad scale in the Southern States before the blacks were made voters or even obtained their freedom. Still, we cannot refrain from suggesting that in the times when this half-breed population mainly grew up, Republicans did not live in the Southern States; the Democrats effectually persuading them to stay away, by means of tar and feathers, hempen cords and other cognate arguments.

Surely the Examiner has not already forgotten that within the last two months, in its own city, was buried a half-breed of such eminence that a concourse of most respectable white people attended the funeral; nor that this offspring of "miscegenation" was the bastard brother of General LEE, commander of the Confederate armies. When such families, with Slavery in full vigor, bear such fruit, it is folly for them or their apologists to prophecy what may happen in consequence of Universal Liberty.

But Slavery, even in its days of greatest strength, interposed no obstacles to marriages between blacks and whites, Col. RICHARD M. JOHNSON married a colored woman, and the Democratic party, with a full knowledge of the fact, elected him to the office of Vice-President. What Slavery did was to reverse the law of all civilized countries by providing that children should follow the condition of their mothers. Hence, if a white man married a colored woman, and had children by her, failing to execute a legal act of emancipation in her behalf, he could sell those children in open market, or they could be sold by his creditors and the proceeds applied in payment of his debts. These possible facts have not yet passed from the remembrance of the world.

THE LOGICAL frankness with which the rebel Democracy of the WADE HAMPTON school are proclaiming the revolutionary gravitation of the party toward the "lost cause," fills the Northern Copperheads with profound apprehension. The indiscreet exposure of their plans, by their elated Southern confederates, arouses the most intense indignation in the loyal States, and the Democratic leaders are limp with the cold sweat of despair. They implore the rebels to be silent, at least until after the election, or the party will entirely be ruined. Their Southern friends have "dried up" accordingly, but it is too late. Enough has already been revealed of the Democratic designs, and of the inevitable result of a Democratic victory at the elections, to ruin that party beyond the possibility of redemption. They have furnished shot enough for Union guns to blow their rebel Democracy hopelessly to pieces. So, boys, fire away!

THE JEWS AND GEN. GRANT.

DAVID ECKSTEIN, Esq., of Cincinnati, enclosing to a journal of that city the subjoined letter from S. WOLF, Esq., of Washington City, remarks that it is worthy of the careful perusal of every Israelite. Mr. E. also adds:

I am the more induced to ask you to publish this excellent communication, inasmuch as it coincides with a conversation it was my privilege to have with the General during his recent visit to this city. The latter was of a character so entirely satisfactory to me as an Israelite, that I am quite sure it would have been quite sufficient to relieve all reasonable members of our sect from embarrassment on this subject.

Mr. WOLF's card is as follows:

To the Editor of the Boston Transcript: In the Boston Post of Wednesday an article appeared headed "Grant and the Jewish Vote," signed by "Max." I do not know who Max is; whether he is an Israelite or a Mohomedan, not being material; but to his conclusions I entirely object, as being illegal, erroneous and decidedly anti-Jewish.

No one, even the General, denies that the order was proscriptive, but in one sense not uncalled for. The General never meant then, since, or now to proscribe the Jews because they were such, but simply to banish from his camp the Lazzaroni who infested it. Unfortunately the order was ill-worded, but that is no reason why American citizens should be betrayed from their allegiance to principles, and turn to a party that advocates the reverse of what is right and true.

I protest in the name of enlightened Judaism against this dragooning system and continually harping on the 'old ancient grudge.'

We are not Jews in any political sense. We are what is of far more value, American citizens, and as such can and will vote for the candidate of our party, be that Grant or Seymour. We are not living in England, Poland or Holland. The ages of persecution have passed into oblivion, but the lessons taught have not been lost, for we know that here, free as the air we breathe, we can worship God according to the dictates of conscience, that we owe no allegiance to class, and that the fostering of prejudice and the accursed spirit of exclusiveness that have marked our race should cease and forever, being detrimental to the development of free thought and true progress.

Accursed will be the day when Jews as a class commit the unpardonable crime of becoming sectarian in their politics, Know-nothings among Americans. If such thing should come to pass, I wish to place my protest on record, for no matter how much of an error General Grant or any one else may have committed, I will not forget what I owe the country that has fostered and protected me in the exercise of free thought. I will not forget that if oppression and prejudice have overtaken us, they were mainly attributable to the very sectarian spirit that is here sought to be perpetuated.

You, Mr. Max, or any other Israelite, can, in your individual capacity as American citizens, vote and speak against Gen. Grant as much as you please,—that is one of your inalienable rights and privileges, but forbear to use it in a religious sense.

I know Gen. Grant and his motives, have corresponded with him on this very subject, and assert unhesitatingly that he never intended to insult any honorable Jew; that he never thought of their religion; that the order was simply directed "against certain evil-designing persons, who respected neither law nor order, and who were endangering the morals of the army." Gen. Grant is not the only man who, during the war, committed wrongs against the holiest rights. Fremont, Burnside, even the lamented Lincoln, were not free from them, and Congress had to legalize, subsequently, acts performed against the rules of law and justice; but the emergencies of the time made them necessary, and an Anglo-Saxon race, ever ready to defend their principles, suffered these wrongs because they were necessary to the preservation of the Republic.

Having lived in Washington for the last six years, I know how many of our people were indifferent to the cause, and how many only cared for the spoils. This they had, however, in common with other persons, and I took every occasion to defend my race against cruel aspersions and uncalled-for prejudice, but yet I cannot shut my eyes to the fact that hundreds infested the camps who were spies, blockade-runners, &c., who, owing no allegiance to the Government, having ever a passport near, endangered the army, laughed at army regulations and orders, and when caught attempted to bribe their way to freedom. This was a state of things highly demoralizing, and the General, in a moment of just indignation, in an hour of great peril, issued this order, never contemplating any wrong against honest, patriotic Jewish-American citizens.

The order never harmed me—never harmed any one, not even in thought, except those whom we as Jews despise, and hold in contempt.

It would be perfect folly to suppose, for a moment, that the Jews have found in Grant another Titus, for he is fully aware of the noble deeds performed by thousands of Jewish privates, and hundreds of Jewish officers, during the late war; and I know that some of his warmest friends, even in Washington, are Jews. The bugbear of what he may do, when he becomes President, is childish. He will do his duty as the law and the will of the people, through their chosen representatives, prescribe; no more—no less.

This great love, all at once exhibited by the Democratic party or any other party, this great tolerance prated about by Christians for Jews, is simply absurd. We are not Jews, except to God; we are to the country what Mr. Smith, Jones, or Brown are—citizens. We seek no tolerance from any one, in this age of progress and ennobling humanity. Tolerance is for slaves, not for Americans. S. WOLF.

BOSTON, August 6."

"A DAYTON JEW" writes to the Journal of that city: "I feel it. I have heard from my Jewish friends that no honorable Jew would vote for Grant. I have only to say that those who make use of such language are very ignorant, for as far as honor is concerned, more honorable Jews will vote for Grant than dishonorable ones. There are men of my faith who, I am sorry to say, deserve nothing better than order No. 11. I for one, as a true Israelite, can give my vote to the interest of my country, and therefore must put in my vote for the man who saved the country, and that man is Ulysses S. Grant. I have seen an article in the Cincinnati Enquirer from a Jew in this city, who signs his name in full. He is the only Jew in the State who opens such a wide mouth against Grant. But things are changing. Remember, we will show them in November who Ulysses S. Grant is!"

THE Worcester Spy has prepared the following epitaph to be used next November:

Here Lies,
Without hope of Resurrection,
All that remains of
AMERICAN DEMOCRACY,
(falsely so called.)
His appalling crime was to have sacrificed
A Million Lives,
And Many Thousand Millions of Treasure
In a fiendish struggle to perpetuate
The accursed system of
AFRICAN SLAVERY.
In the presence of this one enormity
it would be mockery to utter
The name of any
VIRTUE.

IT IT SAID that Seymour has caused a committee to follow up Blair, and stop him from making more speeches or writing more letters. Seymour is said to have given way to the suspicion that Blair means to kill him off with his letters and speeches.

IS YOUR DISEASE RHEUMATISM?

Many persons, supposing they are suffering from this disease, have applied Linaments, Plasters and other Rheumatic Remedies without obtaining any relief, when in fact the cause of pain is a derangement of the Kidneys. These are small organs, but very important, and any obstruction or interference with its functions are indicated by pain in the back and loins, languor and weakness, difficulty in avoiding and unnatural color of the urine. A Diuretic should t once be resorted to.

DR. SARGENT'S

SHATTERED CONSTITUTIONS.

Our constitutions are elastic. They are not easily shattered. In fact, strictly speaking, Death alone can shatter them, for they represent the reserve of vitality, which enables the enfeebled system to react, when the pressure of disease is removed from it. But it is the fashion, when the body is weak, the circulation languid, the nerves tremulous and the mind depressed, to say that the constitution is ruined, or broken down, or shattered. In cases of the kind described, administer HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS and it will soon be seen how little ground there is for this stereotyped note of alarm. The tonic and alterative properties of the specific, rapidly diffused through the whole organization by the stimulant which forms the basis, will immediately create a favorable reaction, and this reanimating process will go on as the medicine is continued, until strength, health and mental activity are completely restored. Every day cures of this kind are accomplished. Let the debilitated invalid, when told by his condoling friends that "his constitution is shattered," have recourse at once to this strength-recruiting preparation, in which the finest stomachics and alteratives of the vegetable kingdom are represented, and he will soon be able to meet their gloomy forebodings with a confident smile, and to announce that he has taken a new lease of life under its vitalizing operation.

CURE OF FISTULA.

DR. KEYSER: I write to thank you for your kindness and scientific management of my disease, for which I called to consult you some time in January last. You will remember that I had a complication of diseases, which finally ended in a terrible fistula, which I had been advised to "let alone," on account of a harassing cough, which it was feared might fasten it on my lungs. I knew that the peculiar mode of treating diseases like mine was by a cutting operation, which, if successful at all, would naturally throw the disease upon the lungs or some other vital organ, on account of the suddenness of the cure and the immediate check to the discharge, which I believed was a salutary provision of nature to get rid of some morbid condition of the system. I feel perfectly satisfied that your method of treatment, purifying the system, and local applications to the fistulous part, must cure, if anything could, without cutting, which I find it did, and I am happy to report myself well in every particular, with sounder and better health than I have had for years. I would also add that the applications you made were almost painless, and have left me a new man, with all the energies and vigor of restored health.

Yours, gratefully, I—— C——.

HYDRAULIC

COW-MILKER.

Wanted immediately, all who are looking for business to call and examine the HYDRAULIC COW-MILKER—"a sure cure for aching hands and kicking cows." It milks the four teats of a cow at once; it imitates the calf, draws and stops drawing to swallow; it will milk any cow perfectly dry in three minutes; it is operated by hand, dog, horse or other power. One man can attend several machines, milking as many cows at once. It is simple, durable and self-adjusting; will fit any cow; milks three-teat cows as well as any; easily worked; not liable to get out of order, and has proven by practical use to be more agreeable to the cow than hand-milking. A rare opportunity is now offered to enterprising men, either to travel or locate in city or country. Call and examine for yourselves.

☞ REPUBLICAN

CITY CONVENTION.

The Republicans of the City of Pittsburgh are hereby invited to attend Primary Meetings in their respective Wards on SATURDAY, August 15th, 1868,

Between the hours of 3 and 7 P. M., and there vote for candidates to be placed in nomination for the several city offices, viz:

One person for Mayor of said city.
One person for Controller of said city.
One person for Treasurer of said city.

The voting at said meetings will be by printed or written ballots, containing the names of the candidates voted for, each office on a ticket by itself, and the elections, as far as practicable, will be conducted in accordance with the laws and usages regulating State, county and city elections, the officers taking care to keep a correct list of all persons voting thereat.

The elections will be conducted, wherever it can be done, by the Republican election officers chosen at the last city election; and in wards where no such officers were chosen, the officers to conduct the elections have been designated, as hereinafter mentioned, by the City Committee.

The Committee suggest that the officers thus designated to hold this election shall voluntarily take the usual affidavit administered to election officers under the laws of the State, so as to shut out all cause of complaint.

The election in the First and Second Wards will be held at the Public School Houses in said wards.

In the Third Ward at the Public School House.
In the Fourth Ward at the Public School House.
In the Fifth Ward in the office of the Clerk of the Orphans' Court, at the Court House, under the supervision of W. B. Neeper, George Glass and R. J. Smith, who are appointed the Board to hold said election.
In the Sixth Ward at the Public School House.
In the Seventh Ward at the Public School House.
In the Eighth Ward at the house of Henry Wilson.
In the Ninth Ward at the Public School House.
In the Tenth Ward at the house of Wm. Brown, at the corner of Penn and Mechanics streets.

In the Eleventh, Twelfth, Thirteenth, Fourteenth, Fifteenth and Seventeenth Wards, at the usual places of holding elections in said wards.

In the Sixteenth Ward at the Wigwam, corner of Pearl and Main streets, under the supervision of Noah G. Craig, Roland Smith and John C. Stewart.

In the Eighteenth Ward at the place of holding elections for what was heretofore known as the 2d precinct of Collins township, under the supervision of David Jones, David Holmes and David Kirk.

In the Nineteenth Ward at Joseph Ganster's house on the Greensburg turnpike, under the supervision of John N. Berlin, Wm. H. Morrison and James Joyce.

In the Twentieth Ward at Beitler's School House, under the supervision of Wm. H. Denniston, Geo. F. Rahauser and John R. Baum.

In the Twenty-first Ward at Wigwam (now built) in said ward, on the land of George Finley, near sand wash, on the corner of Spring street and the Pukerty road, under the supervision of A. J. Woolslayer, S. B. Ross and B. W. Morgan.

In the Twenty-second Ward at Irwin's School House, under the supervision of John R. Murdock, William Irwin and Randal Morton.

In the Twenty-third ward at the usual place for holding elections in late Peebles township, under the supervision of Joseph Boals, James B. Palmer and James McKibben.

Every supporter of GRANT and COLFAX and the city nominees is earnestly invited to take part in said election, and none other; and the election officers are hereby respectfully urged to use all possible diligence to preserve the purity of the ballot box and secure a fair return of the votes cast.

The election officers, after the votes are counted, will make up duplicate returns thereof, one of which, with the list of voters, shall be placed in the ballot boxes, and the other taken possession of by the Return Judge; and the Return Judges of the several wards shall present the same at a meeting of Return Judges, to be held at the Common Council Chamber, on TUESDAY, August 18th, at 10 o'clock A. M., when they shall cause the same to be added together, and declare the result, the person receiving the highest vote for each office to be declared the nominee.

The Return Judges, at their meeting, will appoint the City Executive Committee to serve for the ensuing year.

The Committee desires to call the attention of the Election Boards to the following resolution, which was adopted at the last meeting of the Committee:

Resolved, That we recommend to the officers of the Primary Election the enforcement of all legal rules respecting the qualification of voters at general elections, in addition to the requirement that the voter shall be a known member of the Union Republican Party.

A resolution was also passed authorizing the Election Boards to fill all vacancies occurring in the officers of their respective districts.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, August 12, 1868.

The local money market is quiet and devoid of any new or important characteristics worthy of special notice. As general business is dull the demand for money is by no means urgent, and all good borrowers experience no difficulty in getting accommodations at 8 to 9 per cent. in bank, and some, who keep up big balances, get it for less. On the street the figures range all the way from 10 to 15 per cent., according to circumstances.

—The New York Stock quotations to-day as received by Mr. Ph. R. Mertz, were as follows: Gold 146⅜; 1881's, 115¾; 5-20's, 1852, 114¾; do 1864, 110¾; do 1865, 112½; do new, 109; do 1867, 109¼; 10-40's, 109⅜; Cleveland & Pittsburgh 87½; Fort Wayne, 108¾; Western Union Telegraph 33¾; Adams Express, 52; Erie, 57¾.

—The decline in Gold which began on Friday in New York, and has continued with some halts since, is attributed mainly to the statement of the public debt, which showed a much larger balance of coin in the Treasury than was expected, The New York Times of the 8th says:

"The speculators for the rise in gold have evidently underrated the amount remaining in the Treasury. The public debt statement this afternoon shows that eighty-three million of dollars were on hand at the close of August."

The balance of coin however, is not near so large as was at first supposed; from the $83,409,917 are to be deducted $22,414,000 of gold certificates, leaving the balance in the ownership of the government on August 1st $60,995,217. This sum included the $7,200,000 for Alaska, of which $2,000,000 has been drawn out.

—The New York Post of Saturday evening, commenting on the eventful week in gold premiums, says:

"Commercial considerations which would of themselves have caused a gradual and steady advance in the gold premium have been pressed into the service of the speculators, and we have seen instead rapid and violent fluctuations, apparently dictated by the momentary interests of heavy operators. The prevailing idea seems to be that in view of the unfavorable condition of our foreign trade balance, a higher premium will be maintained before October than has been reached during the past week."

—Closing quotations received by James T. Brady & Co.:

Gold, 146¾; U. S. 6's, 1881's, 115¾; 5-20's, 1862, 114¾; 5-20's, 1864, 110¾; 5-20's, 1865, 112½; 10-40's, 109⅜; 5-20's, January and July, '65, 109¼; 5-20's, January and July, '67 109¼; '68, 109⅜; June 7-30's, par less ¼ July 7-30's, do ¼ August 118¾; Sept. 118¼ Oct. 118; Union Pacific Railroad, 102; Central 103.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

There is but little that is really new or important to be said about the general markets, and general business continues dull. Once it has been fully ascertained in regard to the results of the harvest, and the crops begin to move, business will improve, and the indications now are very favorable for a good fall trade. We look for a good demand for all kinds of Pittsburgh manufactures this fall, and nothing contributes so much to the strength of Pittsburgh as when her manufacturing interests are in good condition.

GROCERIES—The grocery market has been fairly active during the past week, there having been fair volume of business in the aggregate, while so far as prices are concerned, there are no changes worthy of special notice. Raw Sugars are in good demand and firm, while Refined is a little weak and a shade lower. Coffee is firmer but unchanged, and this is true of Rice, Fish, Soap, Candles, etc; etc. The following are the ruling quotations:

SUGARS—Cuba, 12½c for good grocery 12¾ to 13c for prime; and 14c for choice; Porto Rico—good, 13c; prime, 13½; choice, 14½ to 15c; Clarified Cuba, 14 to 14½c. Refined—Standard Hard, 17½c; A, 16½c; B, 16¼c; Extra C, 15¾c; Sugar House, 11½c.

COFFEE—Rio ranges all the way from 22 to 27c for common to strictly prime. Java 37 to 38c.

SYRUPS—Lovering's $1; Silver Drips, $1; White Drips, $1,10; medium brands, 70 to 80c; common, 50 to 60c; Booth & Edgar Syrup, 90c.

RICE—Rangoon, good, 10c; prime to choice, 11 to 11¼c; Carolina, 12 to 12½c.

MOLASSES—New Orleans, 90 to $1; Cuba, 65 to 70c; Porto Rico, 70 to 85c.

SPICES—Cassia, 80 to 85c; Cloves, 50c; Pepper, 38c; Allspice, 35c; Nutmegs, $1,50.

STARCH—Madison, 8c; Silver Gloss, 12½c, and Corn Starch, 13½c.

FRUITS—Layer Rasins, $4,75 per box; Valentia, 20c per lb; Prunes, 17c; Currants, 14c for new.

BAR LEAD—12c; Shot, $3,50 per bag.

SOAPS—"Babbitt's," 12c; "Oakley's," 11½c; Rosin, 5 to 7c; "Dobbin's," 15c.

CANDLES—Mould, 16c; Star, 23c.

CONCENTRATED LYE—$7,50 per case.

BI CARB SODA—$8,50 per 100.

FISH—White Fish, $9,00; Lake Herring, $5,00; Mackerel No. 1, $22; No. 2, $18,00; No. 3, $13,50; in half barrels, 50c more.

BUTTER—Under the influence of increased receipts the market is a little dull, and prices are barely maintained, ranging from 30 to 33 for good to prime.

EGGS—Continue exceedingly dull, with a supply largely in excess of the demand, and we now quote at 16 to 18.

CHEESE—Is quiet and unchanged at 14 to 15 for Western Reserve and Hamburg 16 to 17 for Factory; and 19 to 20 for Sweitzer.

HAY—Is selling from country wagons at $20 to $28, for common to prime new crop.

GRAIN—While the dealers are getting in but little Wheat the mills seem to be receiving plenty, and we continue to quote at $2,12 to $2,15 for Red and $2,20 to $2,25 for White. The reason why dealers do not bring in more lies in the fact that there is no margin, as the mills can bring it here as cheap as the dealers. The stock of old Oats is almost completely exhausted, while the new crop has hardly as yet been thrown upon the market; we can report sales of old at 82 and new at 69 to 70. Sale of 1 car prime shelled Corn at $1,12 and this may be regarded as the ruling price for prime Yellow. It is difficult to quote either Rye or Barley, as thus far we have heard of no sales whatever of the latter, and but very few of the former.

GREEN APPLES—Are coming in more freely, and the market is a little weak with a drooping tendency; sales at $3,50 to $5,50 per bbl, as to quality.

POTATOES—Continue exceedingly dull, being offered at $3 to $3,25 per bbl., without finding very many buyers.

LARD OIL—Is firm but unchanged at $1,15 for No. 2 and $1,45 for No. 1.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is firm but unchanged at 13¾ to 14 for Shoulders; 16½ to 18¼ for Ribbed and Clear Sides; and 22½ to 22¼ for Sugar Cured Hams. Lard 19½ Dried Beef, 21¼. Mess Pork $30.

FLOUR—There is no improvement to note in the demand, and while the market is rather dull, prices are without quotable change; we quote at $10,50 to $11 for Spring Wheat; $10,75 to $11,50 for Winter Wheat, and $9,25 to $9,50 for fancy brands.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, August 12, 1868.

CRUDE.

The crude market was a little panicky to-day, and in the afternoon concessions had to be made in order to effect sales. Spot, which was held at 14c yesterday, was offered to-day at 13¾c with 13½c bid; sales of 1,000 bbls for September, seller's option, at 14; and 1,000 bbls, each for October and November, at 13½c. There were various causes assigned for the flurry to-day; one that it was a bear movement, while another had it that it was the increased production—it is alleged that there has been an increase of seven hundred barrels within the past week or ten days, and that the yield in the Venango region is now fully twelve thousand barrels per day. Be this as it may, there is no disputing the fact that the market was decidedly offish to-day, and that compared with yesterday, prices ruled lower.

REFINED—There was also considerable of a panic in refined oil to-day, under the influence of adverse reports from the East, and particularly was this the case in regard to early deliveries. We can report 500 bbls spot at 33½c; 1,000 do at 33¼c, and 1,000 do for the last half of September at 34¼c. Late in the day it was reported that sales were made in New York for August at 32 to 32½c, but some parties received these reports with considerable allowance, though we understood that telegrams were received which reported sales or offers to sell at these figures.

LATER—Since the above was written, we are reported the following bulk Oil sales: 5,000 barrels delivered at Saw Mill Run, immediately, at 45c. Sales of 2,000 barrels on the spot at 13¾c; 560 barrels do. at 13½c per gallon.

PITTSBURGH WOOL MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, August 12, 1868.

During the past week there has been considerable activity in the wool market, large quantities having changed hands. Prices, however, have undergone no change. One dealer reports large purchases during the past week, and sales to the amount of upwards of one hundred thousand pounds. Eastern advices continue favorable; manufacturers there are still buying freely of low and medium grades, and a better feeling prevails, with a prospect of higher prices being reached. In this city to-day the market is strong, with prices firmly held. Below will be found the current quotation for the various grades of wool: Unwashed, 25@27c; pulled wool, 30c; very clean toll wool, 41c. fleece, common to one-fourth blood, 35@37c; one-fourth to one-half, 38@40c; one-half to three-fourths blood, 40@43c; and three-fourths to full blood, 43@45c. To obtain the latter figure, fleeces must be very fine and handsome.

Chicago Market.

Corn less active and firmer; sales of No. 1 at $1,01a102; No. 2 at 99a99¼c and rejected at 91a93½c, closing at $1,01¼a1,01¾ for No. 1; since noon board sales of No. 1 at $1,01¼a102, cash. New York Dry Goods Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, August 12.—There is a steady and fair demand for woolen goods at prices sufficiently low to inspire confidence in maintenance of rates. The inquiry for cotton goods is also increasing, but the market is not very active; prices, however, are generally firm, except for printed cloths, which have been depressed somewhat in the east. Prints, in the meantime, remain firm at 13¼a14½c for Amoskeag, Richmond, Pacific Mills and Spragues' fancies. Standard Brown Sheetings command 17a18c, the latter on extreme.

[Special Correspondence Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SCOTLAND, July, 1868.

In our peregrinations we have reached Scotland, and are in almost the eastern extremity thereof. This morning I looked out on the German Ocean, so famous for its fisheries. The herring, haddock, cod, &c., caught in its waters are taken to all parts of Europe, and form the principal article of commerce for the South-eastern coast of Scotland. Hundreds of men—and men of different nationalities—are constantly employed fishing off the coast of Fifeshire. Yesterday I saw a dozen or more Frenchmen on the dock "mending their nets," preparatory to going out on a fishing excursion. Five men man a fishing boat; and it is a beautiful sight to see a hundred or a hundred and fifty boats, their sails all set, going forth over the broad expanse of water. They go out thirty, fifty, and often eighty miles, set their nets, take up the fish caught in them, and return next day, some with ten, some with fifteen, and some with twenty barrels of fish as the result of a night's work. These are hurried to the depot, and are soon in all parts of the United Kingdom. What would men do to-day without railways? And what a busy, bustling world we are in! At one custom house near here, Kircaldy, over seven hundred fishing boats have been entered. They give employment to some thousands of men. A few years since a benevolent lady established a missionary station for the fishermen on the east coast of Scotland. These stations have been multiplied as the number of fishermen increased, till now between sixty and seventy missionaries are engaged in evangelical labors on the northern and eastern shore of Scotland. Our latitude is fifty-six and a fourth degrees North—more than sixteen degrees North of New York, and the difference of time between this and Pittsburgh is about five and a half hours. The long twilight and the shortness of the nights at this season of the year are very noticeable. When the days are at the longest one can easily see to read at half-past ten o'clock at night, and day breaks about two in the morning. Of course in the winter season the days are correspondingly short and the nights correspondingly long.

By looking at a map of the world you will see that England, Scotland and Ireland cover but a small portion of the great earth's surface; but they exert a powerful influence in the world, and stand along with our own country among the foremost of civilized nations. Before I write of Scotland and of what I have seen in it, I wish to say a few things further concerning Ireland. Ireland is not what Scotland is, nor are its people, on the whole, what the people of Scotland are; and yet I believe it is capable of becoming more—capable of becoming, as John Bright said not long since, "one of the fairest flowers of the earth." It is beautifully situated; it has a genial climate and a good soil; its surface is not so uneven as that of Scotland, nor is its natural scenery so grand, but for all purposes of agriculture it certainly surpasses Scotland, and is capable of supporting a very great population. In our judgment the following things are necessary to the prosperity and development of Ireland and its people. 1. The "disendowment and disestablishment" of the Irish Church. Many are opposed to Mr. Gladstone's measure for this, but I have no doubt it will carry. Indeed, in the coming elections it will be made the test question. The people say it shall be done. A few days since "the mothers, wives and daughters of the Protestants of Ireland begged to approach Her Majesty (the Queen) with profound respect," and to present a petition "praying that Her Majesty would, to the utmost extent of her power, oppose the present attempt to undermine the foundations of the Protestant religion established amongst us." But, notwithstanding the petition of these "wives, mothers and daughters," and the Queen's "power," even should she see fit to exercise it, the Irish Church will, sooner or later, be "disendowed" and severed from its connection with the State.

2. Another thing essential to the highest prosperity of Ireland is the breaking up of the large landed estates, and the division of the soil among the people. Ireland is poor compared with what she might be, and ought to be, and she will remain poor so long as things continue as they now are. The people do not own the soil, nor can they buy it, even if they had the means. The few are rich; the many are poor. True, farmers can lease land and sometimes for a long period, but still it is not their own. They cannot get it in fee simple. The greater part of the country is divided into large landed estates—estates comprising many thousands of acres, and covering many square miles. The owners of many of these reside in England, and on the continent, and these spend in luxurious living the products of their estates. Thus, much of the money made in Ireland is spent elsewhere, and the country is kept largely drained. In parts of Ireland some of the large land owners have been dealing in a very oppressive manner with their farmers and tenants. Instead of giving the latter, when they paid their rent, a receipt in full they would "credit them on account" with so much, thus leaving it in their own power to eject them whenever they pleased. The people became incensed at the treatment they received, and last April as Featherstone Haugh, who had been at Dublin to make a speech of welcome to the Prince of Wales, was returning home he was assassinated. The people said they thought his assassination did good, as it frightened other landed proprietors, and put a stop to their unjust proceedings. The people must own the soil or they will not take an interest in its cultivation, and as a consequence of the state of things, Ireland is full of beggars. The traveller—especially in the southern part—is constantly annoyed by them. They will follow you for squares, and utter the name of the Supreme Being in the lightest and most irreverent manner. Another thing: Ireland is full of huts and cabins instead of houses. It is only occasionally that you see a good, substantial, commodious frame house. Of course, the "Sirs," the "Lords," &c., have fine dwellings, and live in grand style.

3. A more general diffusion of knowledge is necessary to Ireland's regeneration and development. An ignorant people cannot but be a degraded people. The masses of the Irish are lamentably ignorant. They seem to know nothing. The children are not educated and grow up in ignorance. I heard the remark made the other day in Belfast, and I believe it is true, that two thirds of the Irish people are not capable of forming an intelligent opinion on any political topic. They know nothing about the geography of their own country, to say not a word of other countries; they can't tell you the distance of the nearest places, nor the population of their towns, or cities or districts. Many of them have gone to the United States and more would go if they could. At this I do not wonder. "Indade, it's a great thing to git to Ameriky," said a poor but honest Irishman to me the other day.

Another thing that curses Ireland, and from which she may well groan to be delivered, is intoxicating liquor. How the soul of the righteous is vexed from day to day in seeing so many ruining themselves for time and eternity by that which maddens and destroys! Alas! drinking is too common here as elsewhere. At the last meeting of the General Assembly it was stated that "drinking and drunkenness" were on the increase in Ireland; that in 1860 something over three million gallons of intoxicating beverages were drunk, and in 1867 the number of gallons was over five millions; and that on a specified day a sermon should be preached in all the (Presbyterian) churches against intemperance. I do not now recollect that, during the ten days that I was in Ireland, I saw a single one smoking a cigar (unless it was an American,) but the pipe was in nearly every one's mouth! It seems to me that every good man should fervently pray: "From the cup and the pipe, Good Lord, deliver us."

Belfast, distant by rail 110 miles from Dublin, is by far the finest city in Ireland. Its streets are in the main wide and clean, and its buildings generally good. It reminds one of an American city. Its buildings are as good, I think as a general thing, better than those of Cincinnati. It is the greatest linen emporium in the world, and many of its richest merchants are in the linen trade. It is in the centre, north and south of the "Linen District." Belfast has lately sent two of her most distinguished men to the United States. John Hall, a Presbyterian minister, to New York, where he gets a salary of $10,000 in gold, and Dr. James McCosh, who, for sixteen years, was Professor of Metaphysics and Moral Philosophy in Queen's College, to Princeton, New Jersey. He has been appointed to and accepted the Presidency of that College. The American, who is so far north as Belfast, is almost sure to visit the "Giant's Causeway." It is situated on the extreme northern boundary of Ireland, and is worth visiting as an unexplainable natural curiosity. It is wonderful, indeed, and the basaltic columns of which it is composed cannot be accounted for on any scientific principles. As when visiting "Old Niagara" for the first time you are disappointed and say it is not so majestic or grand as you had imagined; so when you first look on the "Giant's Causeway" you feel disappointed; it does not meet your expectations, but it grows upon you, and the longer you look the more you wonder. You are out on the ocean in a boat and the beautiful bays, the bold prominent coast rising above you 400 feet, and the regularly formed columnar pillars, all conspire to make the view impressive and grand. Scientific men know not how to account for the formation of the causeway. Nature often works mysteriously, and here is one of her strangest and most mysterious works.

On the evening of July 17th, we bade adieu to Ireland, and per steamer "Buffalo" sailed for Glasgow. Going out of the fine, large bay, at the head of which Belfast is situated, we had a good view of the bold headlands along the shore; and night coming on, we were soon out in the Irish sea. At four next morning our vessel halted at Greenock, and two hours afterwards we were in Glasgow. In the river Clyde we were disappointed. It is chiefly a made river. The labor of man has rendered it navigable to Glasgow. It is narrow and its water very dirty, and, when stirred, offensive in smell. Blockade runners were built on its banks during our war; and hundreds of vessels in all stages of the process of building are now to be seen on its banks. The country, however, to the north and south of it is beautiful, and on its left hand bank as you ascend is a bold, craggy, high rock, on which are the ruins of Dunbarton Castle, and from which Mary, Queen of Scots, when a child, sailed away to France.

The heat and drouth, especially in Ireland and Scotland, are very great this summer. The earth is parched, and the crops, though looking very well, need rain. On Thursday of this week the thermometer stood at 120 degrees in London, the warmest weather that has been known for over forty years

Petroleum as Fuel.

Last spring the reports of the experiments conducted in New York and Boston as to the practicability of using petroleum as fuel on steamboats were published in the GAZETTE. We have now to publish a repetition of these trials at Detroit, Michigan, on last Tuesday. The method of application appears to be the same as in the Boston experiments, and of the general opinion expressed by the Detroit steamboat men was favorable. As to the question of relative cost, it was claimed that crude oil at the present price of from sixty to eighty cents a barrel, will only be one-half as expensive as wood. A barrel, it was asserted, will go as far as a cord of wood, and the oil to do the work of forty cords of wood can be put in the space occupied by four cords, leaving the space taken up by the thirty-six cords for freight.

IN CANADA, the reports of the crops are beginning to come in. The wheat, it is stated, generally promises to furnish over an average crop, and most of it is ready for reaping. Hay is turning out better than was expected, and is of excellent quality and well saved. Barley will not come up to the average; and the oats and peas are burnt up with the heat. Hops and corn are looking well; but, owing to the long-continued drought, potatoes and buckwheat must prove almost a total failure. In L'Original District, in addition to the drought, there have been great losses occasioned by the immense fires which have been raging in the woods for several weeks. The fires have in some places swept before them large fields of grain---leaving nothing but a smoky, blackened plain. It is asserted that thousands of dollars have been lost, and that it would be almost impossible to calculate the loss for a distance of sixty miles each way.

THE TRAVELING COMMUNITY.

J. B. HARRIS' SAFETY FIRE JACKET,

Car Heater and Moderator,

For SMOKE AND HOT AIR FLUES, dispensing with the use of Stoves and Fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached.

Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be applied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended. It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues, or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, factories, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c., wherever pipes as conductors are made dangerous by being overheated and security desired. I will sell, on application, rights to manufacture or to use the above invention; also, territorial rights, to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges, either by State or county.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Daily Prayer Meeting—From 12 M. to 12:30 o'clock at the Rooms of the Christian Association, No. 23 Fifth street.

Subsiding.—The panic in the meat market is beginning to subside.

The State Central Republican Executive Committee will hold a session at the Monongahela House to-day.

Flourishing.—The bone boiling business in East Liberty. The cattle disease revived it. "It's an ill wind that blows nobody any good."

Meets To-Night.—The Allegheny Councils will hold a regular semi monthly meeting this evening at seven and a half o'clock in their Chambers, City Building.

Attempted Burglary.—At an early hour yesterday morning a burglar attempted to force an entrance into a house on Rebecca street, Allegheny, but was frightened off.

Improvement.—The fence around the yard of the Pan Handle Railroad on Grant street is receiving a coat of whitewash, which materially improves the appearance of the affair.

In another colum will be found grouped together the cards of the various candidates for municipal office, setting forth that they will abide by the nominations to be made next Saturday.

Kicked His Son.—John McDermott made information, yesterday, before Alderman Taylor against William Mason for assault and battery. McDermott alleges that Mason kicked his son, who works with him as helper at McCulley's Glas Works. A warrant was issued.

Threatened to Whip Him.—Lucius Zunmer fears that N. Keiffer, who has taken a dislike to him, will carry into execution a threat to whip him. Alderman Taylor issued a warrant for the arrest of the threatener, and committed him for a hearing on an information for surety of the peace preferred by Zunmer.

Grand Open Air Rally in Allegheny To-Night.—To-night, on the Commons, fronting the City Building, there will be held a grand open air rally, at which all voters are invited to be present. Hon. Galusha A. Grow, H. Bucher Swope and other distinguished speakers will positively be in attendance. Let there be a general turnout.

Run Over.—Ellen Reed, residing near the Point, was run over on Monday afternoon by a market-wagon and injured to such an extent as to render her recovery very doubtful. It seems she attempted to cross Marbury street in advance of the wagon, and was knocked down by the horses, with the result as stated. Dr. Hamilton is in attendance upon her.

Man Run Over.—On Monday afternoon a man named Grayson, residing on Virgin alley, in attempting to cross Smithfield street, in front of an express wagon, was knocked down and run over, the wheels of the wagon passing over his abdomen. The accident occurred near Seventh street. The injured man was conveyed to his residence and a physician summoned.

Alleged False Pretence.—Andrew Knox made information yesterday before Alderman Strain against Alexander Taylor for false pretence. Knox, who stops at 413 Liberty street, alleges that Taylor, residing at No. 35 on the same street, obtained from him by false pretence seven hundred dollars. The accused was arrested and gave bail in the sum of $1,506 for a hearing.

A Tanner Club.—A call will be found elsewhere, addressed to the active young Republicans of this neighborhood for a meeting to-night at City Hall for the purpose of organizing a Tanner's Club for the campaign. such organizations have been formed in all the large cities and Allegheny County should by all means place one in the field. Let every young voter attend and enroll his name.

Commenced.—The first service of the camp meeting at Leetsdale took place last evening. Quite a large number of people are in attendance and it promises to be an exceedingly interesting gathering. Arrangements have been made with the railroad company by which all baggage going to the grounds will be transported free of charge. The meeting is in charge of Rev. Dr. Williams and Rev. Joseph Horner, of Sewickley.

Alleged Aggravated Assault.—Andrew Shehan made information, yesterday, before Alderman Strain against two policemen named Joseph Cupples and W. J. Jordon for aggravated assault and battery. Shehan alleges that the defendants beat him in the face with a mace, and otherwise injured him by placing nippers on his arms. The offense is said to have occurred near the Union Depot. The accused were arrested and gave bail for a hearing.

An Intruder.—A young chap who resides on Second street, has been in the habit of sleeping on the housetop during the heated term. He was indulging in his usual practice on Monday night when the rain came and drove him in doors. In his haste to get into the house he descended the wrong scuttle and found himself in the sleeping apartments of a young lady. The young lady screamed and called for help. The young gentleman reconnoitred and quickly vamoosed.

Forestalling the Market.—Joseph Wrigley made information yesterday before Alderman Humbert against James Freeman for forestalling the market. Wrigley, who is the market constable, alleges that Freeman bought from a countryman thirty-seven pair of chickens for seventy-five cents a pair, and sold them again during market hours at a considerable advance. The accused was arrested and after a hearing fined twenty dollars and costs, in default of which he was committed to jail.

Serious Accident.—Isaac Printer, a brakesman in the employ of the Pennsylvania railroad, met with a serious accident at the Outer Depot about eight o'clock on Tuesday evening. It seems he was engaged in coupling two cars together, when by some mishap he fell between the bumpers. His right arm was crushed in a shocking manner, and it is probable that amputation will be necessary. He was conveyed to his home in the Fifth ward, where his injuries were attended to by Dr. Hamilton.

Three Times.—Yesterday Arthur Cruikshank was fortunate enough to arouse the ire of a merchant in the pea-nut trade, whose establishment is located on the corner of Penn and Canal streets. Arthur suffered for his temerity, being bruised, according to his own statement, three times by coming in contact with the pedal extremity of the aforesaid merchant. This so insulted his dignity that he only found relief in an information for assault and battery before Alderman Taylor, who issued a warrant for the arrest of the belligerent tradesman.

An Affectionate Child.—According to an information made before Alderman McMaster's, Catherine McKean amused herself and manifested her filial love by whipping her maternal parent the other day. It is perhaps possible that Catherine, who is a married child, was unaware of the fact that this is one of the methods of expressing love for parents which the law prohibits, but she will understand it hereafter, as her father, George Utts, of East Deer township, had her arrested, and after a hearing held for Court in the sum of $500 to answer a charge of assault and battery.

South Pittsburgh.

The South Pittsburgh Grant and Colfax Club held a meeting at the Public School House, Tuesday evening, which was largely attended, and at the opening hour, the President, William H. Barker, ascended the platform, and announced that the Club had, in connection with the Republicans of Monongahela borough, erected a stand at the south end of the bridge, and that their friends were there waiting on them. He put the question whether the meeting would adjourn to meet with their friends of Monongahela, when the meeting unanimously voted aye, and, preceded by the Washington Cornet Band, marched to a stand situate near the soute end of the Monogahela Bridge, when, after music by the band, and a soug by the Glee Club, led by Prof. John A. Jones, the Chair introduced Major. A. M. Brown, who proceeded to address the meeting in a most able and eloquent manner.

The Band then discoursed some excellent music, which was followed by a song from the Glee Club.

R. J. Powers, Esq., followed in an argumentative and telling speech, and concluded in an earnest appeal to all to stand by Grant and Colfax and the old flag.

John Glenn, of Kentucky, was next introduced. He had been sent to Kentucky on recruiting duty, and because he had enlisted negroes he was ostracised by the rebels there, and forced to leave the State. The rebel sentiment pervaded all parts of Kentucky, and of course the majority were in full sympathy with Seymour and Blair.

The meeting was one of the largest ever held in the borough, and the greatest enthusiasm was manifested.

Elizabeth and Vicinity.

The Republicans of Elizabeth and vicinity met on Monday evening in the room prepared for a Grant and Colfax Club, and organized by calling Jas. Maffett, Esq., as temporary Chairman, and W. B. Sprague, Secretary.

A committee was appointed on permanent organization, who reported the following officers:

President—Jas. Maffett, Esq.
Vice Presidents—Wm. H. Robinson, J. W. Eckley.
Secretaries—W. B. Sprague, J. S. Taylor.
Treasurer—H. H. M'Clure.

The question being put on the acceptance of the report and adoption thereof, it was unanimously carried.

Captain Sam. Kerr was then called upon for a speech, who responded in a few very appropriate remarks.

Short speeches were made by Captain Houghton and others, after which there were some business committees appointed for the purpose of making a more thorough canvass than has ever been made in Old Elizabeth.

Hempfield Railroad.

The following very sensible paragraph we take from the Monongahela Republican:

We are likely to have this road built at last. Our readers may have noticed that the Baltimore and Ohio Company purchased the Western section of this road some time ago, and measures are now being taken to get the releases between here and Washington into a formal shape. We are informed by a reliable correspondent that the Hempfield will be put under contract at a very early day. Should this be so, and a connection be made with the Connellsville near West Newton, Pittsburgh had better wake up to the importance of building the Monongahela Valley road, or their trade will suffer by being diverted to Baltimore via the Hempfield and Connellsville. Pittsburgh has hitherto done but little in the way of building railroads, and if this draining of all the trade of the upper part of this valley in another direction, does not rouse them, then we think they would not wink if lightning should strike them. There seems now to be some prospect that our town may be brought into communication with the outward world, not so much perhaps by our own energies, as by the enterprising foresight of other people. Let us attend the meeting of the friends of the Valley Road on Saturday, August 15th, and give it all the aid in our power.

Interesting Surgical Operation.

Matilda Crone and Susan Humphreys have had a little misunderstanding, and Matilda alleges in consequence that Susan threatens to remove from the inside to the outside that portion of her internal organism known as the heart. Notwithstanding this interesting surgical operation was to be performed free of charge, Matilda objects, believing it to be altogether unnecessary, and fearing that Susan, in her surgical zeal, might make the attempt, she lodges an information against her for surety of the peace before Alderman Taylor. That official dispatched a note asking for the attendane of the would-be female surgeon at his office, where she can learn the state of Susan's mind in regard to the matter.

County Executive Committee.

Large Attendance—Members Elected—Mass Meeting To-night—Resolutions in Regard to the Death of Hon. Thadeus Stevens.

At a meeting of the Union Republican County Executive Committee, held yesterday afternoon, Hon. Russell Errett in the chair, and Colonel Stuart, Secretary.

There was a very large attendance, and the reports from all parts of the country were very encouraging.

On motion of Colonel Hilands, Colonel Thomas M. Bayne was elected a member of the Committee.

On motion of Colonel Cooper, John A. Myler and John Heath were appointed a Committee of Arrangements for the meeting in Allegheny to-night.

Mr. Joseph Abel, Chairman of the Committee of Germans, to make arrangements for the reception of the German orator, General Carl Schurz, who is to speak in this city on the 20th inst., reported progress.

A committee of three, consisting of J. H. Baldwin, Captain W. B. Cook and John Heath were appointed to confer with the above committee.

E. A. Reed, of Millvale borough, in consequence of leaving the county, to reside in Auburn, New York, resigned his position on the committee, and John G. Brown was elected to fill the vacancy.

A communication was received from Mr. John J. McCormick, presenting two magnificent steel engravings of Grant and Colfax. On motion a vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. McCormick. The pictures are to be hung above the stage in City Hall.

On motion, the matter of the organization of a Central Grant and Colfax Club was referred to the separate clubs of the county for their consideration.

THE DEATH OF HON. THADDEUS STEVENS.

On motion of Mr. Cohen, the Chair appointed a committee of five, consisting of Josiah Cohen, Col. John M. Cooper, W. B. Hunter, W. S. Purviance and A. Patterson, to draft resolutions in regard to the death of Hon. Thaddeus Stevens.

The committee reported the following resolutions which were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, We have this day learned that at twelve o'clock last night at the seat of Government, and in sight of the National Capitol, the scene of his greatest achievements, Thaddeus Stevens, the great Commoner, died in the harness of public life, "passing away quietly and calmly without a struggle as though falling asleep."

Resolved, That in his death the country at large has sustained the loss of a brilliant statesman and a noble patriot, and the State of Pennsylvania, indebted to him as she is for the common schools which adorn her cities, towns and villages, and upon whose legislation for half a century back the impress of his great mind is imperishably stamped, mourns for her ablest and greatest son.

Resolved, That we regard the death of this great champion of human rights and his removal from the National Councils as a public calamity, and that we shall ever consecrate his name and fame with that of the benefactors of our race to the latest posterity as the great moral hero of his time, always battling for the right and for the oppressed against the oppressors, unawed by the frowns of power and unmoved by the blandishments of political station or success.

The Proposed City Park.

The Committee appointed by Councils to select grounds for a City Park, have visited several proposed sites, the last of which was their visit to the Winebiddle property, on the Pittsburgh and Greensburg turnpike. The Committee were received and entertained by Mr. Phillip Winebiddle, in a very hospitable manner, and shown over his farm, which covers the area of about one hundred acres, and adjoining property to the extent of four hundred acres.

The Committee were well pleased with the Winebiddle and adjoining property, but of course could make no decision until after visiting all the available localities in the neighborhood.

They also visited the Schenley estate, lying back of Oakland and the property of D. H. Fralich, between Oakland and the Monongahela river, on Four Mile Run, Linden grove, the property of Jas. S. Craft, all comprising about six hundred acres, extending from the Greensburgh pike to the Monongahela river. From portions of this site magnificent views of the Monongahela Valley and the valley around East Liberty can be obtained, as well as portions of the old city. The site is undoubtedly a favorable one, and the Committee are well pleased with it.

The entire day was spent by the Committee in the examination of the grounds above mentioned, and the greatest difficulty they will have to encounter will not be to find available grounds, but to make a selection from the many excellent and beautiful sites in the neighborhood.

They have received an invitation to visit a tract of land in the vicinity of Hazlewood, on the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad, which will receive their attention soon.

One Evening This Week

We met twenty-seven cows and nine pigs on North Avenue, Allegheny. As they were not in droves, but quite undriven and at liberty, we felt that they really took up too much room. The next morning as we were musing over this we met on Market and Fifth streets seven wheelbarrows trundling along the sidewalks, and driving to the right and left and covering with mud and grease the simple people who had fondly imagined that the sidewalks were for the use and comfort of pedestrians. On remonstrating with one Celtic gentleman for his wheelbarrow's conduct we were greeted with "d—n you, keep out of the road, and to h—l with ye." This remark caused us to look about to see if there were any witnesses to our humiliation, when to our shame we found four policemen walking in the rear and evidently enjoying our degradation. We could do nothing, for if we had pitched into our Celt these policemen would, all four, have nabbed us and had a clear case of assault and battery, and we could'nt appeal to the law, for it was laughing at us out of the mouths of the quartette of policemen. So we were forced to do nothing but reflect that we rather preferred the cattle plague of the Allegheny streets to the wheelbarrow nuisance, and supercilious inefficiency of some of the Pittsburgh police.

A Question.

John McGrath on the 10th instant made information before the Mayor, charging Richard Best with keeping a ferocious dog, and at the hearing, which took place last evening, a legal question was raised, that will probably have to be decided in the Court. Mr. Best disclaims any knowledge of the whereabouts of the dog at present, and further alleges that the dog does not belong to him, and never did. The prosecutor alleges that the accused harbored the dog, and has done so for several years. It appears, however, that the dog is claimed by a brother-in-law of Mr. Best, who resides in the same house with him. The prosecutor simply desires that the dog shall be killed, and insists that the defendant shall kill him. The question then is whether a man is responsible for the actions of a dog upon which he has no claims? His Honor would not take the responsibility of deciding the point, and held the case for Court.

The Sinclair Bawdy House Case.

Several prosecutions have originated out of the Sinclair bawdy house case, an account of which we published yesterday, and the interest manifested in them by men with pretentions to respectability is truly remarkable. Yesterday morning a hearing took place in the surety case against William Hartz, in which Maggie McClarren, one of the inmates of Mrs. Sinclar's establishment, was prosecutrix, and Hartz was held to bail in the sum of three hundred dollars for his appearance at Court. Hartz then made information charging Maggie McClarren with fornication, and Maggie waiving a hearing gave bail for her appearance at Court. The fair but frail creature had not the slightest difficulty in procuring good and sufficient bail. Several men who aspire to the position of gentlemen were present, all anxious for the honor of serving her in that capacity.

In many instances prosecutions of this character are instituted through purely personal motives, either for the sake of gain or of gratifying some personal feeling of revenge and for aught we know this may be one of them, but if such is the case, it does not follow that gentlemen should be so gallant as to deem it an honor to aid the "persecuted," in their hour of trouble. Such, however, appears to be the case. The time has been in this city as in many others, that a man making any pretensions to respectability, would scarcely visit a house of that character, but if he did so far wander from the path of morality, he would endeavor to conceal the fact instead of seeking opportunities to openly acknowledge it. If these gentlemen desire notoriety of that character, they are welcome to it, and hereafter, so far as we are concerned, they shall have it. We will make it a rule to publish the names of all young men connected with cases of this character, hereafter.

The Rent Case and Its Sequel.

In yesterday's GAZETTE we published an account of a case of alleged false pretence, in which Henry Bein was prosecutor, and Louis Segrist was defendant, and stated that the accused had been arrested and held for a hearing. It appears, as stated in our previous notice of the case, that Bein had leased a tavern stand in McClure township, and that subsequently Segrist purchased the property of the party from whom Bein had leased, and the lease was legally transferred to him. As was his right, Segrist called upon Bein and collected the rent, amounting to sixty-five dollars, stating that he had purchased the lease, but after he had received and receipted for the money, he left the premises, Bein became impressed with the idea that he had been defrauded out of the money, and resolved to have his money back. Tuesday evening, Bein, in company with his bar keeper, John Smurtz, were in the city, and met Segrist, and without thinking of the consequence seized upon him and conducted him to the Mayor's office, where an information was made against him, charging him with obtaining money under false pretence. The case was called up for a hearing, but the Attorney for the prosecution, finding he had no case, the charge was withdrawn, and the prosecutor paid the costs. The case did not terminate here, however, as Segrist, not relishing the treatment he had received at the hands of his captors, made information, charging them with assault and battery. They were arrested and held for a hearing, but the case will probably be compromised.

Alleged Delinquencies of a Husband.

Arabella Meckill made information yesterday against her husband, Wm. Meckill, for assault and battery, larceny and abandonment. According to the statement of the prosecutrix, on Tuesday evening her husband demanded seventy-five dollars from her, which had been placed in her hands for safe keeping by her father. She refused to give him the money, which greatly enraged him, but before commencing actual hostilities, he tried entreaties and threats. Failing in these, he concluded by knocking her down and taking the money which was concealed in the bosom of her dress. Since the time of this occurrence Mrs. Meckill says she has seen nothing of him or heard of his whereabouts, and she is uneasy lest he is gone never to return. She promises to grant him full pardon for his misdeeds and allow him to keep the money if he returns, which is certainly a fair proposition. In the meantime the Alderman's police will see what they can do in the way of turning him up.

Bone Boiling Nuisance.

The operation of converting into glue the bones of the deceased diseased cattle, at East Liberty, still continues to sorely annoy the inhabitants of that good locality. They say the atmosphere is so charged with the abominable and outrageous stench (language fails to describe it) as to render the vicinity almost uninhabitable and something must be done immediately to abate this nuisance.

It is rather provoking when a person flees from the heat and dirt and contaminated air of a crowded city in search of cooler shades and more aromatic breezes, and finds them to have one of these establishments inaugurated afterwards, poisoning the air all around and rendering life in the vicinity, a positive burden instead of a blessing.

A Smart Boy.

A small but in one sense a smart boy entered the confectionery establishment of Mr. Gotham, on Ohio street, Allegheny, yesterday evening, and asked the lady attendant if she could give him change for a five dollar bill, putting his hand into his pocket at the same time as if to draw out the bill. The lady began to count out the change and had laid down a two dollar bill on the counter when the smart boy seized it and made off. The Allegheny police were notified of the occurrence and they commenced to search for the chap, but have not succeeded in capturing him yet. He is a very smart boy, and if he only continues as he has begun he stands a remarkably favorable chance to exhibit his smartness in the Penitentiary before he dies.

A Woman Missing—Foul Play Suspected—The Matter to be Investigated.

Some six or seven weeks since Catharine Hoon, a weak minded girl, residing at Glendale station with Mr. C. Ritt, her brother-in-law, disappeared from her home, and her friends have been unable to obtain any trace of her. It is alleged by the brother-in-law that an undue intimacy existed between her and John Bernhardt, and that about the time of her departure he (Bernhardt,) had promised to procure her a situation in the city. Bernhardt, it is alleged, disappeared from the neighborhood about the time the girl did, and although her friends have made inquiry, were unable to obtain information of either of them until yesterday morning, when Mr. Ritt met Bernhardt on Fifth street near the old theatre. He at once accosted him, and inquired as to the whereabouts of the girl. Bernhardt denied any knowledge of her, whereupon Mr. Ritt called upon an officer to arrest him. As the officer approached Bernhardt retreated and ran up Fifth street, with the officer in pursuit. He turned down Smithfield street but had proceeded but a short distance when he was met by two gentlemen in blue coats, who stopped his wild career. He was taken to the lockup and furnished with quarters, but he still insists that he does not know anything about the girl. An information was made against him by Mr. Ritt, charging him with adultery, upon which in default of bail he was committed to jail for a hearing.

Petroleum Items.

The Titusville Herald has the following: A new well was struck on the Wood Farm on Saturday last, and yesterday it was producing at the rate of ninety barrels per day. It is owned by Messrs. M. Stewart and Irwin.

A new well is being tested on Charley Run, near Oil City. Up to yesterday afternoon the prospect of its being a medium producing well were slight.

It is reported that there are from thirty to forty thousand barrels of refined oil in Cleveland of the second and third qualities.

The shipments by the Allegheny Valley Railroad, from Venango City, Franklin and Scrubb Grass, from August 1st to August 9th, reached 23,080 barrels; the shipments from Tidioute by the Empire Line for the same time, were 4,897 barrels, and from that place to Oil City by local lines, 2,400 barrels.

The Rape Case.

A hearing took place yesterday in the case of John Hively, charged on oath of Simon Schock, before the Mayor, with attempting to commit a rape. The principal witness was the daughter of the prosecutor, a little girl about thirteen years of age. It did not appear, however, that he had used any force, consequently the charge of attempted rape could not be maintained.

Another information was made against him, charging him with open lewdness, upon which he will have a hearing to-day.

Notwithstanding the fact that the girl told a straightforward story, those intimately acquainted with the accused do not believe him guilty.

Charged With Fraud.

John Robinson made information before Alderman Strain yesterday, against Enos Crew for fraud. Robinson says the defendant obtained groceries from him to the amount of thirty-seven dollars, and that he is about to remove from the State, without paying for the same, and that he has also sold a portion of his personal property in pursuance of his design of removing. The accused was arrested and committted to jail for a haring in default of $500 bail. The same prosecutor brought a similar charge against George and Henry Crew, the amount being sixty-eight dollars. Henry was arrested and in default of $500 bail committed for a hearing. George has not been arrested yet.

Fall of a Building.

Yesterday morning a frame house in course of erection in the Thirteenth ward fell down, burying under the ruins two of the workmen named Samuel Gillespie and Jacob McCoombs. Both men were extricated after considerable trouble, when it was found that McCoombs had his head crushed between two of the joists, injuring him so badly that his life is despaired of. Gillespie escaped with a few scratches. The cause of the accident is said to be an attempt to remove some bad sleepers in the foundation. The structure, which will be rebuilt immediately, was one and a half stories high, and cost about $1,000. It was the property of Edward L. Allen.

A Runaway and Upset.

Last evening, about six o'clock, while Mr. McCloskey, accompanied by a lady, was driving up Fifth street in a buggy, the horse attached to the vehicle became frightened and ran off. Turning off Fifth to Smithfield street the affrighted animal continued on its course a short distance when the buggy came in contact with some obstruction at the roadside and upset, throwing both the occupants violently to the ground. The lady suffered no injuries beyond a few slight bruises, but Mr. McCloskey had two of his ribs broken and was otherwise severely bruised. The injured man was conveyed to his residence and medical attention summoned.

Freight Cars Wrecked.

A slight accident occurred at Saltsburgh on the Pittsburgh & Connellsville railroad on Tuesday evening, by which three cars were badly damaged. The cars were being shifted to a siding at the Salt Works, when the check post at the end of the track gave way. The forward car was precipitated over an embankment and broken to pieces. The front trucks of the second car fell on the top of the first car, and the rear car, which was filled with stone, came against it with such a force as to throw it up on its end. The middle car was constructed of iron, but it was damaged to a considerable extent.

[Communication.]

EDS. GAZETTE: Should the Republican nominees for Assembly answer the request of the Alleghanians on consolidation as you think "justice and honor demand," they may have another request to answer, as I was told this morning that should they answer in the afirmative, a petition will be presented to them from the citizens of the five townships who were robbed of their right of franchise, and forced to consolidate, asking them to pledge themselves to vote for the Anti-Consolidation Bill, that was killed last winter in the House by trickery.

LIBERTY TOWNSHIP.

A Ring Joke.—Charley Adams and Vincent Moore are boon companions, but a little joke passed between them, yesterday, which is likely to somewhat cool the ardor of their friendship hereafter. Charley alleges that he had a finger ring valued at seven dollars, which his particular friend, Vincent, by some means procured from him, and when asked to return it, Vincent bantered him in a joking manner for a while until Charley lost his patience and temper, and turned the joke into a reality by lodging an information before Alderman Bailie against his friend for larceny. The accused was arrested, but the matter was compromised by Vincent paying for the ring and costs of prosecution.

Will Pass Through.—Mike McCoole, the celebrated pugilist, is expected to pass through the city to-day, on his wedding tour to New York.

Most Bitters of the present day that are loudly puffed through the newspapers as having great curative properties are vile compounds and base impositions, containing no medicinal virtues whatever, and are really very poor whisky beverages, and, instead of acting as a stimulant and tonic, have a tendency to weaken the stomach by entirely destroying the coating. The public should therefore be very cautious and purchase none but Roback's Stomach Bitters, which have stood the test as a remedial agent for many years, and are really as their name indicates, a stomach bitters and not a beverage. They combine the properties of the best tonic and a stimulant—a laxative, an efficient and anti-bilious agent and the best stomachic known to the world, and when taken in conjunction with Roback's Blood Pills, are the safest and surest preventive against all bilious derangements, thoroughly regulating the whole system and giving tone to the digestive organs.

They are highly recommended as an invigorating tonic to mothers while nursing, increasing the flow of milk, and for convalescents, to restore the prostration which always follows long-continued sickness, they are unsurpassed. No household should consider themselves safe from the ordinary maladies without these invaluable medicines. They can be obtained of any druggist. TTSF
